Europeans Have Role In Peace

PARIS (AP) — U.S. officials expect Britain, France and the Soviet Union all to play some part in carrying forward negotiations for peace in Vietnam.

Red China opposes a settlement, but its power to block a deal is believed to have been impaired by Mao Tse-tung's cultural revolution.

A new burst of diplomatic activity in Paris and other capitals focused attention today on the potential roles of other powers with a stake in the outcome but with no current voice in the discussions in Paris.

U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Ambassador Xuan Thuy of North Vietnam were to call on President Charles de Gaulle today, Harriman in the morning and Thuy late in the afternoon.

While the visits were listed as courtesy calls, each man was expected to discuss his government's position in the negotiations.

British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart will fly to Moscow Wednesday to confer with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. The two men are co-chairmen of the Indochinese peace machinery created in 1954 and could be instrumental in arranging a peace conference if progress in the Paris talks ever warrants one.

Even more important, in the view of diplomats here, the Soviet government's influence on Hanoi. This is believed to have grown in the past year or so at the expense of Red China. As Peking's policy has fallen into the paralyzing grip of internal crisis, Vietnamese reliance on the Soviets is believed to have increased.

Harriman and Thuy meet again Wednesday, their talks having been in recess since Saturday.

Five-Member Board Adopted For County

Draft Districts For Supervisors By Population

BY DAVE ANDREWS

Delta County will have a five-member Board of Supervisors in 1969, a reduction of 22 members from the present 27-member board.

The County Apportionment Commission, meeting in the courtroom of the Delta County Building this morning, unanimously approved a reapportionment plan providing for election of a five-member board from near equal-population districts.

The commission was acting under a state law requiring reapportionment of all county boards of supervisors under the "one man, one vote" principal laid down by the nation's courts.

Under the plan, the City of Escanaba will be divided into three supervisor districts with the north part of the city joining Wells Township and the southern part joining Ford River and Bark River Townships.

Gladstone will be united with Baldwin and Brampton Townships in electing a single supervisor.

The districts approved are:

District 1 — Garden, Fairbanks, Nahma, Masonville, Ensign, Bay de Noc, Maple Ridge, Cornell and Escanaba Townships. Total population 6,440.

District 2 — City of Gladstone, Brampton and Baldwin Townships. Total population 6,503;

District 3 — City of Escanaba Precincts 2 and 3, Ford River and Bark River Townships. Total population 6,625;

District 4 — City of Escanaba Precincts 1, 6 and 4. Total population 7,403;

District 5 — City of Escanaba Precincts 5 and 7 and Wells Township. Total population 7,327.

The variation in population of the districts — from 6,440 in District 1 to 7,403 in District 4 — is less than eight percent variation from the average population of 6,860 per district required if the county were to be apportioned exactly on a "one man, one vote" basis. The population of the county as determined by the 1960 census is 34,298.

All of the districts established are contiguous as required by law.

The plan, while it couples parts of Escanaba with surrounding townships and joins Gladstone with two neighboring townships, maintains voting in precincts as they presently exist to allow for simplicity in supervisor elections.

Groups Interested

It also joins areas of the county with "common interests," according to the Apportionment Commission.

"We have grouped our interest blocks," said Arthur A. Nieman, chairman of the commission.

The Commission pointed out that Wells Township and Escanaba Precincts 5 (Junior High) and 7 (Webster School) are largely industrially oriented. It also pointed out that Precinct 2 (College West) and Precinct 3 (College East) are residential areas and so is a large portion of Ford River and Bark River Townships.

The plan also maintains unity in the central part of Escanaba with Precinct 1 (County Building), Precinct 4 (old Jefferson school) and Precinct 6 (Lemmer school) joining in a single district; retains the City of Gladstone as a single unit in a district, and puts the interests of nine rural-oriented townships together, the commission said.

The plan adopted today will be filed in the office of the Delta County Clerk and also with the Michigan Secretary of State in Lansing.

Supervisors for the County Board will be elected in November at the general election. Deadline for filing nominating petitions for the office of county supervisor is June 18, the same as for all other county offices. The state primary election to name party candidates is Aug. 6.

'Bad-Mouthing' Nation Solves Nothing: LBJ

By The Associated Press

President Johnson—against a background of emphasis in the presidential campaigns on America's problems—says they can't be solved by "bad-mouthing our country."

The problems, Johnson told a philanthropic banquet in New York Monday night, "will not be solved if we give way to crippling despair or to bad-mouthing our country all day long or all week long."

The President did not refer to candidates or relate his remarks directly to the presidential campaigns. But the context of his speech at an Arthritis Foundation banquet made clear he disapproves of much of the campaign oratory.

He returned repeatedly to the theme that some people, unnamed, are tearing the country down rather than building it up.

Shuns Candidacy

California Gov. Ronald Reagan, meanwhile, said he sees "no useful purpose" in announcing as a Republican presidential candidate and said it will be up to the GOP national convention "to decide which way to go."

Reagan, who has said he would accept the nomination but not solicit it, made the remarks when a man shouted from a crowd in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to ask if he would announce as a candidate.

Reagan, accompanied by an entourage of newsmen, is making appearances through the South to raise funds for Republican congressional campaigns.

Rocky Underdog

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, announced GOP candidate, also was in Florida Monday. He said he asked Gov. Claude Kirk to "present the fact that I was available" to Florida's delegation to the nominating convention.

Rockefeller made clear he considers himself an underdog candidate in the South. But he got an enthusiastic reception at the University of Florida at Gainesville where he proposed lowering the voting age to 18 and creating a military draft lottery.

Mid-East Treaty

Kennedy called for a U.S.-Soviet agreement, possibly by treaty, to "defuse the Middle East" by stopping arms shipments to rival nations in the area.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, who has been pressing for a debate with Kennedy, shared the platform at a San Francisco labor dinner with his rival candidate's brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Edward Kennedy stood in for Robert, who was listed on the program. McCarthy said he had accepted the invitation with the idea he would be face to face with Robert, New York senator, and remarked: "I came prepared to offer the vice presidency to Sen. Kennedy—of Massachusetts."

Reds Shell U.S. Posts Near Hue

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese forces slammed 500 rounds of mortar and 100-pound rockets into four vital U.S. headquarters in the Hue area today in one of the heaviest coordinated shellings of the war.

Enemy infantrymen also attacked one of the headquarters but were repulsed, the U.S. Command said.

The shellings followed a destructive rocket attack on a U.S. air cavalry division headquarters in the northern war zone Sunday. It too was attacked again today, but damage was far lighter.

At least eight U.S. soldiers and 21 enemy were reported killed in the attacks near Hue. Another 51 Americans were wounded. In all four cases, headquarters said, material damage was either negligible or light.

"Talk, Fight Plan"

At the same time, Viet Cong troops shelled three provincial capitals and two allied airfields—all but one in the Mekong Delta—inflicting at least 65 allied casualties.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, said, "The intensity of the war seems to be increasing."

Asked if he thought this was deliberately timed with the Paris peace talks as part of a Communist command "talk and fight" strategy, Westmoreland said "circumstantial evidence" would indicate this.

Launch Drives

Westmoreland's headquarters announced that thousands of American helicopter-borne infantrymen and paratroopers were on the move against North Vietnamese forces menacing Hue and Quang Tri City to the north in two newly announced operations to "seek out and destroy or capture enemy personnel, material and installation."

Both drives were launched last Friday, but the announcement was delayed for security reasons.

Results so far generally have been unspectacular, indicating once again that the enemy is picking the time and place to fight and resorting more and more to shellings. These are far less costly to the enemy in casualties, but often inflict serious damage to U.S. installations and aircraft.

The heaviest shelling today was on Camp Eagle, headquarters of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division's "Screaming Eagles," six miles southeast of Hue.

Attack Camp

From midnight until dawn, enemy gunners poured in 300 rounds of mixed 82mm mortars, and Russian-made rockets that weight 100 pounds and have a range of seven miles.

An enemy force of unknown size attacked the camp's perimeter for three hours. Headquarters said 21 North Vietnamese troops were killed. Eight paratroopers were reported killed and 51 wounded as a result of both the shelling and the ground attack.

Strikes Widen; DeGaulle Govt. Is Threatened

PARIS (AP) — France's massive crisis worsened today, with more than one third of the nation's workers on strike, but President Charles de Gaulle's government still did nothing.

The Gaullist governing coalition expressed confidence it would survive a parliamentary vote on a censure motion Wednesday night, but it gave no indication what it would do about the workers' revolt for higher pay, shorter hours and job security.

Nearly 6 million of the nation's 16 million workers were on strike, 250 factories were idle, and the movement was still growing. And unlike previous French strikes of 24 to 48 hours, no limit was put on these walkouts and sit-ins.

Transport Stalled

The strikes stopped trains, subways, buses, taxis and garbage collection in Paris and closed coal mines, airports and seaports. Some tourists were stranded. Lines formed at food and tobacco shops, banks and gasoline stations.

Amid a monstrous traffic jam in Paris, made worse by cars that were abandoned after running out of gasoline, few policemen were in sight. Although not on strike, many apparently stayed home.

Facing the gravest threat yet posed to his 10-year-old Fifth Republic, De Gaulle has made no public statement since breaking off a visit to Romania Saturday and returning to the Elysee Palace. He is to address the nation on television Friday night, and there was no indication of what he planned for a situation strongly reminiscent of the turmoil that brought him back to power in 1958. Opposition political leaders conferred with trade union leaders Monday in preparation for their attempt in the National Assembly to oust Premier Georges Pompidou and his Cabinet.

"End DeGaulle Regime"

The French Communist party called for an end to the De Gaulle regime and the formation of "a true republican regime opening the way to socialism."

A successful censure motion in Parliament would not oust De Gaulle, whose term runs until 1972, but would be a major setback to his policies.

George Seguy, secretary-general of the big Communist-backed General Confederation of Labor, said in a speech that the striking workers will present their same demands to whatever government is in office until they obtain satisfaction.

The French crisis began with a revolt early this month of university students demanding educational reforms. Despite a promise from Pompidou to meet these demands, the students launched round-the-clock sit-ins at most of France's universities and last Tuesday night workers spontaneously took up the tactic

High Court Extends Right To Jury Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defendants in all but "petty" criminal cases are entitled to the chance to be tried by juries, a precedent-shattering Supreme Court has ruled.

"Trial by jury in criminal cases is fundamental to the American scheme of justice," Justice Byron R. White said in the 7-2 decision Monday.

The ruling, one of several expanding the rights of criminal defendants, made the jury trial guarantee of the Sixth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution binding on the states.

At the same time, again by a 7-2 vote, the court erased the distinction between criminal contempt and other crimes and put "serious" contempt cases under the jury-trial rule.

Two Dissent

The justices were not explicit in drawing a line between what it considered "serious" and what it considered "petty" cases. However, crimes carrying a two-year sentence were put in the "serious" category and those of six-months were viewed as "petty," meaning bench trials are still permissible.

The dissenters, Justices John M. Harlan and Potter Stewart, objected to use of the 14th Amendment's due process clause to promote uniformity among the states.

"Quite without reason," they said, "the court has chosen to impose upon every state one means of trying criminal cases; it is a good means, but it is not the only fair means, and it is not demonstrably better than the alternatives states might devise."

In two other decisions, meanwhile, the court junked longstanding decisions. It said a man cannot be tried fairly if the jury hears a codefendant's confession incriminating him. And it said prisoners do not have to complete their sentences before testing additional sentences that await them.

Rule On Picketing

The expansion of rights and the break with the past appeared particularly dramatic because the Senate takes up today legislation to curb the court that is rooted, essentially, in just such actions.

Along with the criminal law decisions, the court opened shopping centers to mass picketing, gave illegitimate children equal treatment under the law and set the stage for consideration next fall of the speeded induction of Vietnam war protesters.

Suburban shopping centers, the court ruled 6 to 3, cannot be declared off-limits to peaceful pickets "wishing to exercise their First Amendment rights."

Claim Red Plot To Kill Suharto

JAKARTA (AP) — The Indonesian government foiled a plot two months ago to kill President Suharto and 19 of his generals and cabinet ministers as they prayed at a mosque, officials at the presidential palace said Monday.

It was reported seven men had key roles in the abortive assassination attempt. All have been arrested and will be tried by a military court, military sources said.

Officials said the plot was inspired by the Communists but that some of those involved were still at large. Several alleged Communists serving in the army were arrested in Jakarta last week, but it was not known how many in all would be implicated in the plot.

The mass assassination was to have been sprung while Suharto and his top officials knelt at the mosque on the grounds of the president's Merdeka Palace during a Moslem festival March 9, the palace officials said.

Rep. Ichord Says Rifle Pact Illegal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army may have acted illegally when it awarded multimillion-dollar contracts for the production of M16 rifles without weighing the price factor of other bids, Rep. Richard Ichord, chairman of a special House Armed Services subcommittee, said Monday.

Ichord said that based on information available to him the awarding of the contracts to General Motors' Hydramatic Division and Harrington & Richardson was illegal.

He called on the Army to answer questions raised by Rep. Peter N. Kyros, D-Maine, who believes Maremont Co. of Saco, Me., should have been given the contract because its bid was $20 million lower than General Motors.

General Motors' successful bid was $56 million and Harrington & Richardson's was $42 million to produce 240,000 rifles.

In a special brief to Ichord, Kyros said: "The Army's action violated the letter, spirit, and intent not only of (its own regulations), but also of controlling legislation and decision of the Supreme Court of the United States and the comptroller general."

Kyros cited regulations and court cases which he said "are explicit and clear that 'price quotations ... shall be solicited from the maximum number of qualified sources of supplies.' "

Ichord said testimony in open hearing by Army officials indicated that production capacity was not only the prime but the sole consideration for the award of the contracts; that price was not considered at all.

"I'm concerned that this is a very poor way to treat the taxpayers of the United States," he said.

Delta Planning Wallace Drive

LANSING (AP)— Backers of former Alabama Governor George C. Wallace will hold their American Independent Party state convention Aug. 23-24 at the Jack Tar Hotel in Lansing, it was announced Monday.

Larry Lee, Wayne County chairman of Michigan Backers for Wallace, says more than 1,000 persons are expected.

The date was set at a meeting in Lansing attended by county chairmen. County conventions were scheduled for Aug. 17.

Lee says that in two weeks the organization plans to campaign in the Upper Peninsula and make an effort to get a chairman for each county. Currently, only Delta, Ontonagon and Mackinac counties have party chairmen.

Dr. Spock Trial Sparks Protest

ANN ARBOR (AP)—About 40 persons demonstrated Monday in front of the local draft board in Ann Arbor protesting the trial of Dr. Benjamin Spock. He and four others went on trial in Boston Monday in U.S. District Court on charges of conspiring to counsel young men to evade the draft.

The Ann Arbor demonstrators, who ranged in age from teens to middle age, belong to a local group called "Resist." The organization believes the draft should be abolished. A spokesman for the group said picketing would continue until the trial ends.

Deputy Foils Dope Smuggler

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — A Butler County deputy foiled a plan Monday to sneak a hypodermic needle and heroin to a jail prisoner.

Deputy Larry Costator squeezed a tube of toothpaste and felt something inside. He cut it open with a razor blade and found the needle in a baby nipple and heroin in wax paper. John Warford, 25, of Hamilton, was charged with possession of narcotics and a hypodermic needle.

Phone Workmen Return To Jobs

DETROIT (AP) — Spokesmen for Michigan Bell Telephone Co. said today all the company's workers apparently are back on the job.

About 2,800 operators, installers and repairmen walked out Monday in a dispute primarily over "cross assignments."

A Communications Workers of America District 4 spokesman said Monday's walkout was unauthorized. It affected service in metropolitan Detroit, Mount Clemens, Southfield, and Roseville.

According to the company spokesman, other grievances by the workers concerned the right of employes to wear mustaches and beards grown during the strike, and a general dissatisfaction, mostly in the Detroit area, with the new contract.

The spokesman said a meeting between union and company officials scheduled for today was to discuss grievances and not to do any bargaining. He said that "cross assignment" has been in the contract for 20 years. "Cross assignment" involves assigning workers to jobs they normally do not handle.

This is necessary so that a backlog of orders and assignments can be caught up, he added. He said it would take some time to get back to normal.

Results of a mail vote tabulated Sunday showed that CWA workers approved a new three-year contract with Michigan Bell by 7,111 to 5,308.

Absentees Break Ionia Vote Tie

IONIA (AP) — Ionia voters decided by a 507-502 margin Monday against a proposed school operations tax increase of four mills.

Voting machines registered the outcome as a tie, 502 to 502, but five absentee ballots were cast against the proposed tax hike.

One of his most successful works was with the Hematite Corp., at Ishpeming, where an electric foundry is being created. The project will operate with junk metal as a source of materials. Farrand handled the development work for the plant of Buckbee Products, Inc., label manufacturers of Escanaba and his assignments have ranged from aid to hobbyist developers of hand shears to the financing of new sawmills.

Gary Barton, Lions youth chairman, announced that the Lions Workbee on the new Boy Scout camp in Au Train Township, Alger County, is scheduled for the weekend of June 15.

Jacobsville Stone Will Be Studied

Research on fault structures in the Lake Superior basin will be conducted by Michigan Tech through a $13,500 grant awarded by the National Science Foundation. The project will be directed over a 14-month period by Prof. Lloyal O. Bacon, professor geophysics.

"The objective of the study is to obtain accurate information on the thickness of the Jacobsville sandstone which is considered to have a thickness on the order of 10,000 feet," Bacon said. He noted that there may be a fairly complex system of geologic faults under the Jacobsville, and that information on the thickness of the sandstones and the fault systems will assist in understanding the geologic history of the Lake Superior area.

The field research will be conducted along five northwest-southeast lines between Gay and Mass. Seismic measurements wil be taken and recorded throughout the summer and fall.

The Jacobsville sandstone deposit was once the resource for a Copper Country quarrying industry which supplied the brownstones for many Upper Peninsula buildings. The Escanaba Library is made of it.

Scientists use the word "ratites" to designate flightless birds. It comes from the Latin word for "raft."

Senior Citizen's Housing Is Top Need, Says Mayor

Senior citizens' low cost housing should get top priority as a most needed project, visiting Coldwater Mayor M. L. Pillsbury told Escanaba service club members at a Michigan Week luncheon at the House of Ludington Monday noon.

Mayor Pillsbury of Coldwater and Mayor Cecil B. Chase of Escanaba "traded cities" on Monday, government day of Michigan Week, each to learn more about the operation of municipal government.

"Escanaba and Coldwater have much that is of mutual interest," said Mayor Pillsbury at the luncheon program sponsored by the Rotary Club.

"The welfare of our senior citizens is a matter of concern in both our cities, and an answer to the problem of providing adequate housing at reasonable price is No. 1 on the list of projects," he said.

The 'Best' Project

The low-cost housing for senior citizens is one of the "best" projects possible under the Housing and Urban Development program, he continued. The federal funding is 100 per cent for the project and there is no obligation to the city as sponsor.

"The senior citizens pay back the bonds and the city receives payment in lieu of taxes — and there is the satisfaction of meeting the moral and humanitarian obligations as well," Mayor Pillsbury noted.

There are other similarities between Coldwater (located in Southern Michigan near the Indiana border) and Escanaba, he said, Both cities own their electric utilities and while Coldwater has lesser population than Escanaba its assessed valuation is higher.

Coldwater has a senior citizens housing facility of 100 units that is 60 per cent completed, and Escanaba is now planning for development of such housing through the work of its Housing Commission. Registrations from senior citizens are now being received at the City Hall.

Receive Gifts

Mayor Pillsbury was introduced by Wesley Hansen, Rotarian and former mayor of Escanaba, and was presented with gifts from industries of the area including a Robinson Furniture Co. platform rocker; maple syrup from Everett Stebbins, Sayklly's Candies, and stationery, rulers and pens from Escanaba Paper Co., the State Bank, Northern Michigan National Bank and the First National Bank & Trust Co.

Ralph Kaziateck, president of the Rotary Club, presided at the luncheon program in which other service clubs were represented by William Mulvaney, Kiwanis; John LaBranche, Jaycees; Optimists, Steward Hill; Ray McDonough, Chamber of Comerce; plus the Exchange Club.

Accompanying Pillsbury were Mrs. Pillsbury, Coldwater City Manager Godfrey W. Colins and his wife, and Seaton Beauvais of the Coldwater Daily Reporter. The ladies dined separately with local hostesses Monday noon.

Monday evening the visitors were honored at a reception and dinner, attended by city officials and their wives.

Escanaba Mayor Chase, Mrs. Chase, Councilman Robert Bink (mayor pro-tem) and Mrs. Bink spent Monday in Coldwater where they toured the city and were honored at receptions, luncheons and dinners.

Seven of the 13 original colonies required voters to be property owners, and some New England states specified church membership as a requirement.

Measure Those Fish For Bays de Noc Anglathon

The Anglathon of the Bays de Noc Recreational Resources Council got underway today with Big Bay de Noc and Little Bay de Noc entering a friendly competition to see which can produce the most sports fish, and with all Delta County united in a program to promote fishing.

The Anglathon starting today is unlike anything ever attempted before in the Upper Peninsula, and probably in the Midwest.

It is going to introduce the element of luck into its awards system, just as luck is such a big factor in fishing.

The fellow who catches the biggest fish will not win all the prizes. The fisherman who has his catch measured and recorded, if it adds up an award point in the contest, will get a trophy and most likely a bundle of gifts from Delta County merchants. They realize the huge potential of the coming coho salmon fishery here and want to help promote its recreation business potential.

THESE TROPHIES BECOME the possessions of fishermen whose catches add up to milestones in the Anglathon of the Bays de Noc Recreational Resources Council for Big Bay de Noc and Little Bay de Noc, starting today. The trophies are, from left, for the northern pike contest in each bay, for the bass contest and for the walleye contest. There will also be trophies for trout, steelheads and coho salmon in both bays at the milestones of measurement, plus merchandise awards from stores supporting the Delta County-wide program to convince the Midwest that it should come to the Bays de Noc for walleye, bass, northern, steelhead, trout and coho fishing. (Daily Press Photo)

Contest Between Bays

Big Bay de Noc, with a large and well developed sports fishery, seems to have an edge in the Anglathon as it opens because it is the larger body of water and has sports fishing centers at Ogontz, Nahma, Garden Corners, Garden, Fayette, Fairport and elsewhere.

Little Bay de Noc is apt to overcome any lead by the Big Bay, however, come fall and the first return of coho salmon "jacks" to the Whitefish River where they were planted early this spring. Eventually Big Bay de Noc will have a coho planting and coho fishing, but Little Bay de Noc got first bite in the salmon program in these waters and looks for the first big season of coho fishing in 1969, with the preview coming this fall with first return of the young males.

Chambers Help

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce today added its support to the Anglathon. Officers of the Bays de Noc Recreational Resources Council will address members of the Retail Division of the Chamber at their luncheon meeting Thursday to explain the potential of the contest to develop the recreational business in Delta County.

The Resources Council unites the efforts of the entire Delta County Community in recreation promotion. It was suggested by professionals of the federal and state agencies active here in recreational activities and has had strong support from local communities and from businesmen. Wynand Nieuwenkamp, head of the Alger Delta Cooperative Electric Association, Gladstone, is president of the Council.

Elmer White of Kipling, operator of White's Bayshore Cabins at Kipling, heads the Little Bay de Noc Committee of the Anglathon, and Robert Porter of Tylene's Resort, Garden Corners, heads the Big Bay Committee. The Little Bay communities active in the contest include Ford River, Breezy Point, Escanaba, Gladstone, Kipling, Masonville, Rapid River, Garth Point, Stonington.

Measuring Stations

The Anglathon will have measuring stations about both of the bays where fishermen may record their catches. There is no charge. All the fish will be measured for length and the measurements and fisherman's name will be phoned to a central compilation place. It will keep cumulative total on the measurements of six species: Bass (not legal yet), northern pike, trout, walleyes, steelheads and salmon.

When measurements of a species add up to an award point, the fisherman will get a trophy and whatever merchandise prizes have been posted for the point. Milestones in this year's measurements will be 100 yards, 200 yards, 300 yards, one-quarter mile, 650 yards, one-half mile, 1000 yards, three-quarters mile, 1,500 yards and one mile.

Take 'Em Here!

Measuring stations:

Big Bay: Tylene's Resort, Garden Corners Bar, Bay House, Deuparo's Resort, Allen's Grocery, Laughing Gull Resort, Richard's Grocery, Brownlee Cabins, Slavinski Grocery, Groleau's Grocery and Bill Sass Resort.

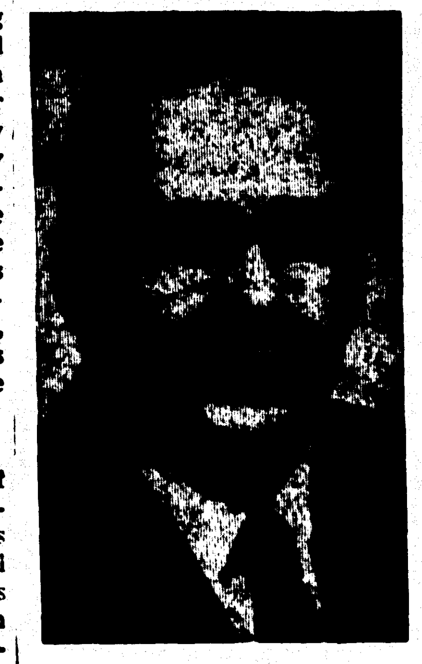
Hoholik Heads Nixon Workers



Frank S. Hoholik

LANSING — Frank S. Hoholik of Manistique, prominent Upper Peninsula industrial leader, has been named chairman of the Nixon-for-President campaign in the 11th Congressional district, Senator Emil Lockwood (R-St. Louis) announced today.

Senator Lockwood, State Chairman of the Nixon drive in Michigan, said he was "delighted that a man of Hoholik's stature and leadership ability has agreed to head up the Nixon campaign in the vast 11th Congressional district.

"Hoholik has been a strong supporter of Nixon and he is a worthy addition to other district chairmen working for the former Vice President," Lockwood said.

Hoholik, a native of Manistique, is president and general manager of the Manistique Pulp & Paper Co., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Field Enterprises, which publishes the Chicago Sun Times, Chicago Daily News, World Book Encyclopedia and Child Craft.

He also is president of Upper Great Lakes Timber, Inc., and a director of Manistique Pulp & Paper Co., American Timber Homes, Inc., and American Forest Products Industries.

Before joining Manistique Pulp & Paper Co., Hoholik was employed in the Buick and Chevrolet divisions of General Motors for more than 15 years. He was educated at DePaul University in Chicago and the University of Detroit and holds a bachelor degree in mechanical engineering and a master's degree in business administration.

Great Lake Pike Opener Is Today

By BOB VOGES

LANSING (AP) — The salmon craze and trout fever may have distracted some Michigan fishermen from other great angling opportunities.

For instance, the season for muskellunge, northern pike and walleyes opened today in Lake Huron, Michigan and Superior.

There are not too many muskies in the lakes. But the northern pike and walleyes are there if you know where to go and how to go after them.

Anglers are more familiar with the fishing for these species in Lake St. Clair, Lake Erie and the Detroit River — already open.

"The other lakes are lightly fished for northern pike," said Stan Lievense of the Conservation Department Fish Division.

He recommends trying around Isle Royale or the bays there.

"Some real, trophy-size pike are taken," he said, "especially in July."

Use Big Lures

Similar good fishing for the pike, he suggested, can be found in the area around the Les Cheneux Islands, east of St. Ignace.

"Northern pike up to 25 pounds and 40 inches are not uncommon," he said.

"If you want to get the big fish, use large lures — or live bait in large sizes," he tipped. "some use suckers from 10 to 13 inches as bait.

Lievense said the best idea is to find the local people who know where to go and what bait to use.

The isolated bays with the weedy bottoms generally are the best for the northerns, he said.

If the fisherman is serious about it, he suggested hiring a boat and a local guide.

It Takes Time

"You have to figure on working on it three days to get a trophy fish," he said. "There is bad weather, rain or high winds or just bad luck — 'They were biting the other day,' it always seems."

For walleyes, he suggested Munuskong Lake in the connecting waters between Lake Superior and Lake Huron — or any area around these waters.

Three to four pound walleyes are not uncommon in this area.

One suggestion for walleye fishing is to work off the bottom and again find what lure is working locally.

For those who just want a big fish and are not particular about the species, Lievense said there are some large catfish in the Lake St. Clair channel that no one seems to be touching.

And Now Unfoods

We have had unbooks and unheroes and undramas and now we have unfoods.

The unbooks are things like Phyllis Diller's Cook Book. And the others are in kind; they have the semblance without the substance.

The biggest worry in Michigan's biggest farming business — dairying — is currently about unmilk. Meaning the chemical milk that is called imitation milk, and the "filled" milk that is real milk which has had its animal fat replaced with vegetable fat.

Michigan's dairy farmers currently are being asked to vote "Yes" on the proposed Michigan Dairymen's Market Program, which would provide a checkoff on all milk produced to provide financing for a program of research to create new dairy foods and to promote dairy products.

* * *

The problem which the program aims to solve is broader than dairying and affects the food industry generally. It has to do with substitutes.

We have been around and around on this one in the case of oleomargarine. It was bitterly opposed as a market competition for butter. Wisconsin, a big butter producer, set a tax on oleo exorbitantly high to discourage its sale, but it has had to compromise on that one because it found that states which produce vegetable oils for oleo were boycotting Wisconsin milk.

We have now reached the ultimate: There is an imitation oleo!

* * *

There are many imitation foods, some of them nutritious, some of them gimmicks that advertise health fad elements to attract the gullible. This has been cited by Michigan State University nutritionists, who say that "filled" milk with vegetable oils to get polyunsaturated fats instead of animal fats like natural milk's butterfat, makes sense. But it makes no sense, they say, when coconut oil, a most common substitute, is used because it is a bigger offender than butterfat.

As the Upper Peninsula switches most of its pasturage from dairy farms to beef farms, it will be interested to note that the U. S. Department of Agriculture is currently wrinkling its forehead about what to do about the labeling of meat substitutes.

* * *

Thomas J. Lipton Co. of New Jersey has found a new way to prepare soy beans called beef stroganoff. The resemblance between the "beef" in this beef stroganoff and fresh meat is reported strong, but the amount of beef in the product is not specified.

Lipton is also offering other main dishes in which isolated soy protein gives the "turkey" primavera, or "chicken" la scala or "chicken" baronet their meaty bulk.

Americans have been familiar with soy beans as a food since Henry Ford proclaimed that they were going to be our salvation, good for manufacture into automobile bodies, or for fodder for the inner man. Soy bean simulates, however, have been the food of diet faddists and vegetarians. Because soy beans are very high in protein, like beef, they make an excellent if somewhat inferior substitute.

* * *

So in a pantry filled with nondairy creamers, imitation orange juice, and other ersatz foods we're now to have meat lines not strictly from the butcher shop.

How shall they be identified?

The Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act says a food is considered misbranded if it is an imitation of another, unless its label bears in type of uniform size and prominence, the word "imitation." The label in this case doesn't say that it's an imitation nor that it is not all meat. To further complicate things U. S. Department of Agriculture standards of composition, when they say that beef stroganoff must contain 45 per cent meat, are interpreted to mean that only the sack with the beef, soy protein and sour cream is relevant and not the entire dish.

With present labeling laws we feel concern for the ability of the shopping public to identify imitations.

* * *

Soy beans are the second largest industrial crop in the nation; they're cheap and nutritious and they hold some promise of helping to feed a hungry world. In the case of Lipton's stroganoff, the manufacturer explains that he uses soy protein merely to make it possible to freeze dry meal, which, dried in any other fashion, would be perishable and unpleasant. By combining dry pulverized meat in a dough with soy isolates, extruding the resulting gook in a kind of macaroni and cutting it off, Lipton has found a way to prepare a dry meat.

That's great, but what about the label? It should say how much beef there is in beef stroganoff a la soy simulates.

Friendship Patterns

Are you an "interlocking" type? Or are you a "radial?"

All of us are one or the other and most of us are the former, according to information on more than 1,000 native-born white males in Detroit gathered by University of Michigan students.

For example, if you are a close friend of Tom, Dick and Harry and those three are close friends of one another, your friendship network is interlocking.

But if Tom, Dick and Harry are not friends of one another, then your friendship network is radial.

* * *

Members, of interlocking groups tend to share many interests, while members of radial groups tend to choose friends for special purposes, such as a common interest in a hobby or sport.

If your friendship pattern is interlocing, you are gregarious, somewhat narrow-minded, have many friends of similar ethnic, educational and economic background and see a great deal of your friends.

If your friendship pattern is radial, you are likely to be politically independent, broadminded, a Protestant and a social comer. You can enjoy yourself without the company of others, don't discuss your personal problems with friends and, in fact, probably have few friends, although these you have cover a broad range. You prefer the independence of your own business to the security of a job in a large bureaucracy.

Differ On Vietnam

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

PORTLAND, Ore. (NEA) — Against the backdrop of Vietnam talks in Paris, the question keeps arising as to what the late John F. Kennedy might have done about Vietnam in the years 1963-1968.

One observer has noted that Vice President Humphrey is more constant and more vigorous in his defense of the late President's Vietnam policy than is Sen. Robert Kennedy.

Bob Kennedy seldom speaks of the Kennedy administration's Vietnam policy and even more rarely deals with it in a positive way.

In declaring his own present opposition to the war, he says, in fact, that he was wrong in lending his support to the conflict as a key member of his brother's administration. The clear import of this is that he believes John Kennedy himself was wrong in the Vietnam decisions he made in 1961-63.

The argument is continuously advanced by many Democratic liberals, including some aides and friends of the late President, that he would never have involved this nation in Vietnam with large ground and air forces.

One of the most recent to drop this notion is Pierre Salinger, formerly John Kennedy's press secretary and now helping his brother try to win the 1968 presidential nomination.

On its face, the argument is unprovable, since Kennedy did not live to confront the conditions in Vietnam which led President Johnson to order larger U. S. participation.

Those who try to make the unprovable case usually make highly selective use of John Kennedy's utterances on the subject—picking out those in which he voiced concern about "overcommitment" in Vietnam and in Asia generally.

Theodore Sorensen, another top John Kennedy aide now working for brother Bob, wrote in his book on the assassinated President that the U. S. commitment in Vietnam was "not one that President Kennedy felt he could abandon without undesirable consequences throughout Asia and the world."

Sorensen said the late President felt the goal was clear—to show the Communist forces in and outside South Vietnam that they could not seize that country militarily. Said Kennedy on Sept. 12, 1963, 2½ months before his death:

"We are not there to see a war lost . . we will follow the policy which I have indicated today to advance those causes and issues which help win the war."

Kennedy did indeed want the Vietnamese people peacefully to choose their own future, wrote Sorensen. But he believed that South Vietnam was too weak to survive without aid—that it would have been defenseless against externally supported Communist forces.

Thus convinced, he never gave thought to pulling out. He put it simply: "I think we should stay."

Mr. George Weingartner
Superintendent, Rock Schools

In a world that is confronted with so many difficulties, I find it a rare and pleasing opportunity to write a letter like this.

Nine months ago when I first arrived in this community, I was confused as to what needed to be done. It did not take long for me to realize the need of the young citizenry. With the cooperation of the teenagers of this area I have spent many hours planning activities for them and working along side of them. Some individuals showed more maturity than others in their work. Others were just the opposite.

While assisting the senior class in preparing their trip to Washington, D. C., I had doubts as to the maturity of the group and whether they were ready for the new and challenging life that they would face after graduating. Now that the trip is a thing of the past, I will have to say that, having seen the behavior of these young adults as displayed in our nation's capital, I must respect them as the mature individuals they are. With few exceptions they were exemplary in their conduct. It can be said of them that they act in accordance with the environment in which they are present.

I do not know who learned more from the trip. The seniors no doubt grasped a fuller comprehension of their nation's history and of the way it is governed today. Personally I was made more aware of the outstanding citizens that make up the Class of 1968.

SENIOR

May is Senior Citizens Month. I salute Northern Michigan's older citizens, and believe it is a good time to take stock of the problems facing them.

The hard facts are that of the nation's 20 million senior citizens, over 65 one-third have incomes less than $2,500 a year; nearly two-thirds have incomes less than $5,000, and 71 per cent of those single among the aged have incomes less than $2,000. We are far from the day when a man or woman can enjoy his retirement years free from the burden of constant financial strain. There is much to be done. We must strengthen the financial structure of the Social Security system. We must enact policies to protect the independence of the aged without mortgaging the future of our youth.

I supported the 13 per cent increase in Social Security, but in many instances the gain is being wiped out by inflation. We should now tie Social Security increases, automatically, to increases in the cost of living. This can be done without an increase in the payroll tax because increased living costs mean increased revenues coming into the system.

We should increase widow's benefits from the present 82 per cent to 100 per cent. The Social Security is now a patchwork altered, amended, and changed every few years. The time is here for a comprehensive study of the entire system. Perhaps through a system of tax sharing, Congress should consider beefing up state assistance to meet the needs of our older citizens.

I believe we should raise limitations on senior citizens outside income from the present $1,500 to at least $2,100.

Opening lead—♠ Q

North's jump from one to three no-trump is the correct response in any standard American system. With eight points in high cards and a six card minor suit, North wants to be in game but does not have the potential to try for the 11 tricks necessary to make a minor suit game.

There is no reason to shilly-shally and he jumps to three no-trump. No guaranty of success goes with this bid but if you wait for guaranteed games you will be a losing player. Winning players push for games.

The game contract is a lay down for experts. But a lot of average players would fail to make it.

South must win the first spade in his own hand to retain the king of spades in dummy as an eventual entry for the diamond suit.

At trick two, South must lead the queen of diamonds. If he leads the 10. West will rise with his king and dummy's diamonds will never come home.

If South leads the queen, West's best play is to cover with his king and right here South has his last chance to go wrong.

If he returns a low diamond to his 10 in an effort to collect six diamond tricks, he will go right out of business. West's nine will still stop the suit and South will make only three diamond tricks.

South's correct play is to lead dummy's jack of diamonds. This will cost him a trick in case diamonds were 3-2 or 4-1 with the nine spot guarded, but the loss will not be important. South can count on two tricks in each major suit. Thus, he only needs five diamond tricks for his game and should play in such manner as to insure making them.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
1 N.T.	Pass	?

You, North, hold:
♠K 2 ♥3 2 ♦A J 8 7 6 5 ♣7-3 2

What do you do?

A—Bid three no-trump. You don't have any interest in trying for an 11-trick game but you do want to try for a no-trump game.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Again your partner opens one no-trump. This time you hold:
♠K 3 2 ♥3 ♦A Q J 8 6 5 ♣Q 6 2

What do you do now?

Ann Landers

Certain People Are Without Any Taste

Dear Ann Landers: Regarding the 6th grade kid who signed himself "Privacy Needed" and complained because the lady teacher kept busting into the boys' toilet looking for smokers: I can understand the boy's embarrassment and you were right when you said the investigating should be done by a male, but, as a lady teacher who has had to do the investigating because no male is around to do it, may I present my position?

Smoking is the least of the deviltry going on in junior high school toilet rooms. The boys empty the ground-soap containers and throw the stuff all over the floor. They fill balloons with water and pour it into the hall trash receptacles. They drop rolls of tissue into the toilets and stop up the whole works. At a school where a friend of mine teaches, the boys actually tore the plumbing out of the walls.

Recently, we had the bathrooms painted and one of the boys told me I had to come with him and see the funniest thing in the world. He took me into the lavatory, and there on the ceiling were greasy black shoe prints. Several boys must have held one kid upsided own to achieve this startling effect.

Since you strive for realism I thought you might like to hear from someone who is able to tell it like it is. — UNWILLING INTRUDER

Dear Unwilling: I appreciate your letter and am printing it at the risk of giving the little demons new ideas. If greasy shoe prints begin to appear on freshly painted ceilings all over the country, you and I must accept the blame.

I still say — a male should do the investigating and lady teachers should stay the heck out of boys' bathrooms.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: Why is it that during a time of sorrow there is always someone around who is measuring the intensity of grief displayed by the family? One hears statements such as "She must be hard as nails — hasn't shed a tear through this whole thing." If there is a display of agony, the same person will remark, "She must be awfully guilty or she wouldn't be putting on such a show."

Recently I heard this comment at a funeral where the children wept openly: "Now that it's too late they show some feeling for their poor old mother. When she was alive they didn't bother with her."

For the life of me I can't figure out why people make such tasteless, unkind and ignorant remarks. Can you? — BAFFLED BETTY

Dear Baff: Because they are tasteless, unkind and ignorant people. What else?

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I grew up with a girl who has always been a terrible liar. Catherine is exactly my age. In fact our birthdays fall the same week. Last week I heard her tell the ladies of our garden club that she is 42. She is 48 — born in 1920, just as I was.

Do you think I ought to give the ladies the facts? I hate to see her get away with it. — CROWDING FIFTY AND NOT ASHAMED

Dear Crowding: What is she getting away with? Do you think anyone gives a hangnail whether Catherine is 42 or 48 or 98? Age is only a number and most people could care less about someone else's number. Forget it.

Women's Army Corps Observes 26th Birthday

The Women's Army Corps—formed within six months of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor—is celebrating its 26th anniversary this month.

The Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, forerunner of the present Women's Army Corps, was established by Congress in May, 1942.

Actual operations for the new WAAC began modestly when the first classes, composed of some 770 women, started training. The "experiment" of employing women to work with the Army became an immediate success.

By the first anniversary the WAAC boasted some 60,000 members, filling more than 150 different jobs at all major Army commands in the United States, North Africa and England.

The word "auxiliary" was dropped for the organization's name in 1943 by Congress.

Today, the Womens Army Corps (WAC) numbers about 10,000.

Women wishing further information about the Corps should contact Sgt. Nelson Sebring, 902 Ludington St., or telephone 786-0403.

Convict Miriani Of Tax Evasion

DETROIT (AP) — Louis C. Miriani, 73-year-old city councilman and former Detroit mayor, faces possible imprisonment of 20 years and a fine of $40,000 on his U. S. District Court conviction Monday of income tax evasion.

A jury of eight women and four men convicted Miriani on four counts after deliberating 5 hours and 45 minutes. Judge Charles G. Neese of Knoxville, Tenn., who presided, said Miriani would be sentenced Aug. 10.

Miriani's attorneys said the conviction will be appealed.

The government contended Miriani underestimated his income by $261,100 from 1959 through 1962. He was unseated by Jerome P. Cavanagh for mayor in 1961, but won reelection to the council in 1965.

Urge Income Tax Break For Cost Of Private School

LANSING (AP)—A resolution urging Congress to enact legislation granting tax adjustment to parents of nonpublic school pupils won approval in the State Senate.

The concurrent resolution calls on Congress to permit parents of nonpublic school children to apply for "a credit against their income tax or a deduction from adjusted gross income in their computation of federal income tax for payments made to nonpublic schools."

The measure was sponsored by Sen. Oscar E. Bouwsma, R-Muskegon.

Identical bills were introduced in each house earlier this year, calling for $21 million in state funds to be granted to parents of nonpublic school pupils. Both House and Senate education committees failed to report out the measures. Committee chairmen said they wanted a chance to study the controversial measure in depth.

Upholds Antiriot Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court rejected today an appeal by Stokely Carmichael and other Black Power militants seeking to strike down Tennessee disorderly conduct and antiriot laws.

The appeal claimed the laws inhibit free speech and can be used to unconstitutionally regulate peaceful picketing, speechmaking and assembly.

The suit grew out of arrests and other action by Nashville police during violence in the Negro section of the city last April. It was dismissed by a three-judge federal court in Nashville last October.

The court in Nashville described as "devoid of factual support and indeed even fanciful" the allegation that policemen and city officials combined to harass Carmichael and the others and to deprive them of their constitutional rights.

The Supreme Court affirmed this judgment in a terse ruling that also noted Justice William O. Douglas had dissented.

Bullet Victim Makes Comeback

By The Associated Press

Last October, just before her third birthday, a little girl was rushed to Pontiac General Hospital with fragments of a bullet in her brain.

When she awoke from a coma two and a half days later, Tina Tovar was completely paralyzed, unable even to lift her head.

Now, seven months later, Tina is capable of walking by herself. She is able to talk, "almost at the level of a normal 3½-year-old," says her therapist, 26-year-old Karen Miller.

And tonight, the happy, black-haired little girl will be honored as the 1968 Kenny Girl, the symbol of the physical rehabilitation efforts of Michigan's Kenny Foundation.

The Rehabilitation Foundation celebrates its 21st birthday with a dinner in Detroit.

Never Solved

Tina was watching a television show in the living room of her home in Pontiac Sunday morning, Oct. 8, when a bullet slammed through an aluminum screen door, pierced a door into the living room and struck the child in the head.

The shooting never has been solved by Pontiac police, but Chief William K. Hanger believes it was an accident.

The therapy Tina is undergoing, says Mrs. Miller, is aimed at increasing the strength in her weakened muscles as well as enabling uninjured parts of her brain to take over coordination.

"Two months ago, she started to walk by herself, and she's catching up pretty quickly," says the young therapist, who has become one of Tina's closest friends.

Lacked Confidence

"The hard thing was to get her to stand by herself. This took quite a time because she didn't have confidence."

Part of the daily, hour-long play routine between Tina and her therapist is a game in which Tina plucks a coin from the floor.

"That's for balance more than anything else," says Mrs. Miller. "At first she would hold onto a person close to her to pick up the coin. Then, all of a sudden one day—maybe a month ago—she bent down and picked it up by herself."

So far, Tina's right hand is still too weak and uncoordinated to grasp the coin. "That's what we're concentrating on now," adds Mrs. Miller.

Climbs Stairs

Another facet of the rehabilitation is a task in which Tina—with Mrs. Miller's aid—climbs up a short flight of three stairs, turns around then climbs back down.

"She likes to do everything possible by herself," says Mrs. Miller, "and if you pretend she's doing it by herself she's extremely pleased," her big brown eyes wide with delight.

When she's not at the Kenny Rehabilitation Center at Pontiac General, Tina gives her two brothers, Victor, 7, and Frank, 2, a run for their money, zipping around the linoleum-covered living room floor on her tricycle.

Still Weak

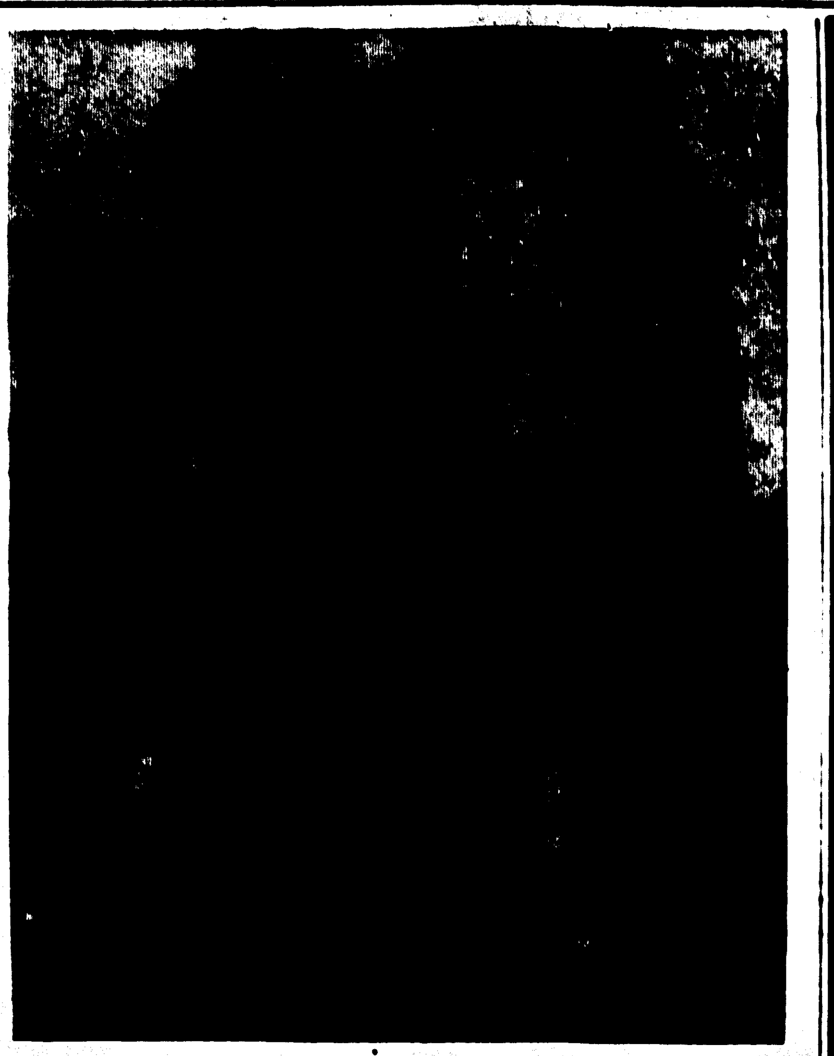
Up to a month ago, says Mrs. Nicholas Tover, Tina's mother, the little girl had to be strapped to a back support on the tricycle, but now she rides it by herself, with no aid.

"She's still a little weak to play a lot of real games," says her mother, "but they all play ring-around-the-rosey together."

Tina, says her mother, takes after her Mexican-born father, with her black hair and brown eyes.

Her father is a night-shift worker at General Motors' Fisher Body plant in Pontiac.

"No doubt about it," sums up Mrs. Miller, "she's our darling."



TOTALLY PARALYZED after a bullet struck her head in cruel accident, Tina Tovar, 3, of Pontiac, is gradually regaining her ability to function. Here she climbs stairs with the help of a therapist, Tina will be honored tonight as the 1968 Kenny Girl. (AP Wirephoto)

Court Refuses To Ban Sale Of Car Registration Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court rejected Monday an appeal that claimed New York state violates the privacy of its citizens by selling auto registration data to the highest commercial bidder.

Corliss Lamont, a wealthy writer and philosopher, brought the appeal when his suit to stop the sales was dismissed by a federal court in New York City.

New York sells its data to R. L. Polk & Co., a Delaware corporation, for about $86,000 a year. The company deals similarly with most of the other states.

Michigan Angler Dies In Canada

Ontario Provincial Police, who traveled by air and five miles overland to retrieve the body, said Robert apparently had a heart attack after falling from the boat.

Five Michigan Men Honored

SAIGON (AP) — Five Michigan men were among troops of the 3rd Brigade, U.S. Army 9th Infantry Division, honored Monday for their defense of Saigon's southern edge.

Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer Jr., Deputy commander of the U.S. Army in Vietnam, said after the hour-long ceremony that he believed the efforts of the brigade in the "Y" bridge area had destroyed the enemy's ability to make a coordinated attack in the near future."

Among the awards presented were 36 Silver Stars, six of them posthumous, three Distinguished Flying Crosses, and 31 Bronze Stars.

Sgt. Franklin A. Townsend of Port Huron was awarded a silver star posthumously. Sgt. 1.c. Stanley Thornburgh of Inkster received the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry with Bronze Star, and a Silver Star. Pfc. Leslie Franklin of Alma was presented with a Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry with Silver Star, and a Silver Star. Spec. 4 Edward J. Chaffin of Onondaga was awarded a Bronze Star. 4-H Club Plans Alley Clean-Up

The Gladstone Community 4-H Club wil cooperate with the City and the Chamber of Commerce in the city wide clean-up campaign by painting litter barrels around the High School, clean the island in VanCleve Park and conduct an alley clean-up campaign.

The group selected Mary Jo DeKeyser and Kathy Madden to head up the alley clean-up when they held their last meeting at the city hall. The alley clean-up has been scheduled for May 25 and all members will be contacted before that date.

Certificates of achievement and year pins for winter projects were awarded and Sally Sjoquist was appointed chairman of the magazine drive. Anyone in the area who has magazines they would like to give to the club for distribution to convalescent homes may call Sally at 428-9880. This project will continue throughout the year.

Enrollment in summer projects will be terminated on May 25 and any boy or girl nine years of age or older may join the club by enrolling with Mrs. James LaFleur, 1724 Montana Ave., and paying the enrollment fee.

Safety and community beautification projects are open to club members but other projects are filled to capacity. Teen leaders, Joan Nelson, Kathy Hirn, Kris Sjoquist, Kathy Madden, Mary Jo DeKeyser, Debra Bero, Cindy and Cheryl LaFleur, are in charge of such projects as child care, conservation, birds, wild flowers, foods, and photography.

Children interested in enrolling in available projects who did not pre-register at the regular business meeting must be accompanied by an adult leader at the time of enrollment.

Caution Urged On Temporary Tire Repairs

NEW YORK (AP) — Repairing flat tires with a rubber plug inserted from outside the tire should be done only in emergency situations, says the Rubber Manufacturers Association.

It notes strict limits have been set by the industry on the use of all temporary repairs, including plugs, blow-out patches and aerosol type sealants. Motorists using such devices are cautioned not to exceed speeds of 50 miles per hour or drive more than 100 miles before having a permanent repair made.

'Casual' Holdup

DETROIT (AP) — "Casual" would be the best word to describe the holdup of a west side Detroit gas station Monday.

Tony Daleo, 25, said a woman entered the station and asked, "How would you like to be held up?" Then she suggested they could split the money.

Getting a negative reaction, the woman walked out to a waiting car, came back, put her hand in her pocket as though she had a gun and demanded all the money from Daleo's cash register. She and her male companion fled in the car.

Europeans Have Role In Peace

PARIS (AP) — U.S. officials expect Britain, France and the Soviet Union all to play some part in carrying forward negotiations for peace in Vietnam.

Red China opposes a settlement, but its power to block a deal is believed to have been impaired by Mao Tse-tung's cultural revolution.

A new burst of diplomatic activity in Paris and other capitals focused attention today on the potential roles of other powers with a stake in the outcome but with no current voice in the discussions in Paris.

U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Ambassador Xuan Thuy of North Vietnam were to call on President Charles de Gaulle today, Harriman in the morning and Thuy late in the afternoon.

While the visits were listed as courtesy calls, each man was expected to discuss his government's position in the negotiations.

British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart will fly to Moscow Wednesday to confer with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. The two men are co-chairmen of the Indochinese peace machinery created in 1954 and could be instrumental in arranging a peace conference if progress in the Paris talks ever warrants one.

Even more important, in the view of diplomats here, the Soviet government's influence on Hanoi. This is believed to have grown in the past year or so at the expense of Red China. As Peking's policy has fallen into the paralyzing grip of internal crisis, Vietnamese reliance on the Soviets is believed to have increased.

Harriman and Thuy meet again Wednesday, their talks having been in recess since Saturday.

'Bad-Mouthing' Nation Solves Nothing: LBJ

By The Associated Press

President Johnson—against a background of emphasis in the presidential campaigns on America's problems—says they can't be solved by "bad-mouthing our country."

The problems, Johnson told a philanthropic banquet in New York Monday night, "will not be solved if we give way to crippling despair or to bad-mouthing our country all day long or all week long."

The President did not refer to candidates or relate his remarks directly to the presidential campaigns. But the context of his speech at an Arthritis Foundation banquet made clear he disapproves of much of the campaign oratory.

He returned repeatedly to the theme that some people, unnamed, are tearing the country down rather than building it up.

Shuns Candidacy

California Gov. Ronald Reagan, meanwhile, said he sees "no useful purpose" in announcing as a Republican presidential candidate and said it will be up to the GOP national convention "to decide which way to go."

Reagan, who has said he would accept the nomination but not solicit it, made the remarks when a man shouted from a crowd in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to ask if he would announce as a candidate.

Reagan, accompanied by an entourage of newsmen, is making appearances through the South to raise funds for Republican congressional campaigns.

Rocky Underdog

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, announced GOP candidate, also was in Florida Monday. He said he asked Gov. Claude Kirk to "present the fact that I was available" to Florida's delegation to the nominating convention.

Rockefeller made clear he considers himself an underdog candidate in the South. But he got an enthusiastic reception at the University of Florida at Gainesville where he proposed lowering the voting age to 18 and creating a military draft lottery.

In the Democratic race, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy got in Los Angeles one of his wildest receptions in nine weeks of campaigning with people tearing off his shoes, ripping at his clothes and clawing through crowds to get near him.

Mid-East Treaty

Kennedy called for a U.S.-Soviet agreement, possibly by treaty, to "defuse the Middle East" by stopping arms shipments to rival nations in the area.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, who has been pressing for a debate with Kennedy, shared the platform at a San Francisco labor dinner with his rival candidate's brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Edward Kennedy stood in for Robert, who was listed on the program. McCarthy said he had accepted the invitation with the idea he would be face to face with Robert, New York senator, and remarked: "I came prepared to offer the vice presidency to Sen. Kennedy—of Massachusetts."

Strikes Widen; DeGaulle Govt. Is Threatened

PARIS (AP) — France's massive crisis worsened today, with more than one third of the nation's workers on strike, but President Charles de Gaulle's government still did nothing.

The Gaullist governing coalition expressed confidence it would survive a parliamentary vote on a censure motion Wednesday night, but it gave no indication what it would do about the workers' revolt for higher pay, shorter hours and job security.

Nearly 6 million of the nation's 16 million workers were on strike, 250 factories were idle, and the movement was still growing. And unlike previous French strikes of 24 to 48 hours, no limit was put on these walkouts and sit-ins.

Transport Stalled

The strikes stopped trains, subways, buses, taxis and garbage collection in Paris and closed coal mines, airports and seaports. Some tourists were stranded. Lines formed at food and tobacco shops, banks and gasoline stations.

Amid a monstrous traffic jam in Paris, made worse by cars that were abandoned after running out of gasoline, few policemen were in sight. Although not on strike, many apparently stayed home.

Facing the gravest threat yet posed to his 10-year-old Fifth Republic, De Gaulle has made no public statement since breaking off a visit to Romania Saturday and returning to the Elysee Palace. He is to address the nation on television Friday night, and there was no indication of what he planned for a situation strongly reminiscent of the turmoil that brought him back to power in 1958. Opposition political leaders conferred with trade union leaders Monday in preparation for their attempt in the National Assembly to oust Premier Georges Pompidou and his Cabinet.

"End DeGaulle Regime"

The French Communist party called for an end to the De Gaulle regime and the formation of "a true republican regime opening the way to socialism."

A successful censure motion in Parliament would not oust De Gaulle, whose term runs until 1972, but would be a major setback to his policies.

George Seguy, secretary-general of the big Communist-backed General Confederation of Labor, said in a speech that the striking workers will present their same demands to whatever government is in office until they obtain satisfaction.

The French crisis began with a revolt early this month of university students demanding educational reforms. Despite a promise from Pompidou to meet these demands, the students launched round-the-clock sit-ins at most of France's universities, and last Tuesday night workers spontaneously took up the tactic.

Reds Shell U.S. Posts Near Hue

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese forces slammed 500 rounds of mortar and 100-pound rockets into four vital U.S. headquarters in the Hue area today in one of the heaviest coordinated shellings of the war.

Enemy infantrymen also attacked one of the headquarters but were repulsed, the U.S. Command said.

The shellings followed a destructive rocket attack on a U.S. air cavalry division headquarters in the northern war zone Sunday. It too was attacked again today, but damage was far lighter.

At least eight U.S. soldiers and 21 enemy were reported killed in the attacks near Hue. Another 51 Americans were wounded. In all four cases, headquarters said, material damage was either negligible or light.

"Talk, Fight Plan"

At the same time, Viet Cong troops shelled three provincial capitals and two allied airfields—all but one in the Mekong Delta—inflicting at least 65 allied casualties.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, said, "The intensity of the war seems to be increasing."

Asked if he thought this was deliberately timed with the Paris peace talks as part of a Communist command "talk and fight" strategy, Westmoreland said "circumstantial evidence" would indicate this.

Launch Drives

Westmoreland's headquarters announced that thousands of American helicopter-borne infantrymen and paratroopers were on the move against North Vietnamese forces menacing Hue and Quang Tri City to the north in two newly announced operations to "seek out and destroy or capture enemy personnel, material and installation."

Both drives were launched last Friday, but the announcement was delayed for security reasons.

Results so far generally have been unspectacular, indicating once again that the enemy is picking the time and place to fight and resorting more and more to shellings. These are far less costly to the enemy in casualties, but often inflict serious damage to U.S. installations and aircraft.

The heaviest shelling today was on Camp Eagle, headquarters of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division's "Screaming Eagles," six miles southeast of Hue.

Attack Camp

From midnight until dawn, enemy gunners poured in 300 rounds of mixed 82mm mortars, and Russian-made rockets that weight 100 pounds and have a range of seven miles.

An enemy force of unknown size attacked the camp's perimeter for three hours. Headquarters said 21 North Vietnamese troops were killed. Eight paratroopers were reported killed and 51 wounded as a result of both the shelling and the ground attack.

Phone Workmen Return To Jobs

DETROIT (AP) — Spokesman for Michigan Bell Telephone Co. said today all the company's workers apparently are back on the job.

About 2,600 operators, installers and repairmen walked out Monday in a dispute primarily over "cross assignments."

A Communications Workers of America District 4 spokesman said Monday's walkout was unauthorized. It affected service in metropolitan Detroit, Mount Clemens, Southfield, and Roseville.

According to the company spokesman, other grievances by the workers concerned the right of employes to wear mustaches and beards grown during the strike, and a general dissatisfaction, mostly in the Detroit area, with the new contract.

The spokesman said a meeting between union and company officials scheduled for today was to discuss grievances and not to do any bargaining. He said that "cross assignment" has been in the contract for 20 years. "Cross assignment" involves assigning workers to jobs they normally do not handle.

This is necessary so that a backlog of orders and assignments can be caught up, he added. He said it would take some time to get back to normal.

Results of a mail vote tabulated Sunday showed that CWA workers approved a new three-year contract with Michigan Bell by 7,111 to 5,206.

Absentees Break Ionia Vote Tie

IONIA (AP) — Ionia voters decided by a 507-502 margin Monday against a proposed school operations tax increase of four mills.

Voting machines registered the outcome as a tie, 502 to 502, but five absentee ballots were cast against the proposed tax hike.

Five-Member Board Adopted For County

Draft Districts For Supervisors By Population

BY DAVE ANDREWS

Delta County will have a five-member Board of Supervisors in 1969, a reduction of 22 members from the present 27-member board.

The County Apportionment Commission, meeting in the courtroom of the Delta County Building this morning, unanimously approved a reapportionment plan providing for election of a five-member board from near equal-population districts.

The commission was acting under a state law requiring reapportionment of all county boards of supervisors under the "one man, one vote" principal laid down by the nation's courts.

Under the plan, the City of Escanaba will be divided into three supervisor districts with the north part of the city joining Wells Township and the southern part joining Ford River and Bark River Townships. Gladstone will be united with Baldwin and Brampton Townships in electing a single supervisor.

The districts approved are:

District 1 — Garden, Fairbanks, Nahma, Masonville, Ensign, Bay de Noc, Maple Ridge, Cornell and Escanaba Townships. Total population 6,440.

District 2 — City of Gladstone, Brampton and Baldwin Townships. Total population 6,503;

District 3 — City of Escanaba Precincts 2 and 3, Ford River and Bark River Townships. Total population, 6,625;

District 4 — City of Escanaba Precincts 1, 6 and 4. Total population 7,403;

District 5 — City of Escanaba Precincts 5 and 7 and Wells Township. Total population 7,327.

The variation in population of the districts — from 6,440 in District 1 to 7,403 in District 4 is less than eight percent variation from the average population of 6,860 per district required if the county were to be apportioned exactly on a "one man, one vote" basis. The population of the county as determined by the 1960 census is 34,298.

All of the districts established are contiguous as required by law.

The plan, while it couples parts of Escanaba with surrounding townships and joins Gladstone with two neighboring townships, maintains voting in precincts as they presently exist to allow for simplicity in supervisor elections.

Groups Interestes

It also joins areas of the county with "common interests," according to the Apportionment Commission.

"We have grouped our interest blocks," said Arthur A. Nieman, chairman of the commission.

The Commission pointed out that Wells Township and Escanaba Precincts 5 (Junior High) and 7 (Webster School) are largely industrially oriented. It also pointed out that Precinct 2 (College West) and Precinct 3 (College East) are residential areas and so is a large portion of Ford River and Bark River Townships.

The plan also maintains unity in the central part of Escanaba with Precinct 1 (County Building), Precinct 4 (old Jefferson school) and Precinct 6 (Lemmer school) joining in a single district; retains the City of Gladstone as a single unit in a district, and puts the interests of nine rural-oriented townships together, the commission said.

The plan adopted today will be filed in the office of the Delta County Clerk and also with the Michigan Secretary of State in Lansing.

Supervisors for the County Board will be elected in November at the general election. Deadline for filing nominating petitions for the office of county supervisor is June 18, the same as for all other county offices. The state primary election to name party candidates is Aug. 6.

High Court Extends Right To Jury Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defendants in all but "petty" criminal cases are entitled to the chance to be tried by juries, a precedent-shattering Supreme Court has ruled.

"Trial by jury in criminal cases is fundamental to the American scheme of justice," Justice Byron R. White said in the 7-2 decision Monday.

The ruling, one of several expanding the rights of criminal defendants, made the jury trial guarantee of the Sixth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution binding on the states.

At the same time, again by a 7-2 vote, the court erased the distinction between criminal contempt and other crimes and put "serious" contempt cases under the jury-trial rule.

Two Dissent

The justices were not explicit in drawing a line between what it considered "serious" and what it considered "petty" cases. However, crimes carrying a two-year sentence were put in the "serious" category and those of six-months were viewed as "petty," meaning bench trials are still permissible.

The dissenters, Justices John M. Harlan and Potter Stewart, objected to use of the 14th Amendment's due process clause to promote uniformity among the states.

"Quite without reason," they said, "the court has chosen to impose upon every state one means of trying criminal cases; it is a good means, but it is not the only fair means, and it is not demonstrably better than the alternatives states might devise."

In two other decisions, meanwhile, the court junked longstanding decisions. It said a man cannot be tried fairly if the jury hears a codefendant's confession incriminating him. And it said prisoners do not have to complete their sentences before testing additional sentences that await them.

Rule On Picketing

The expansion of rights and the break with the past appeared particularly dramatic because the Senate takes up today legislation to curb the court that is rooted, essentially, in just such actions.

Along with the criminal law decisions, the court opened shopping centers to mass picketing, gave illegitimate children equal treatment under the law and set the stage for consideration next fall of the speeded induction of Vietnam war protesters.

Suburban shopping centers, the court ruled 6 to 3, cannot be declared off-limits to peaceful pickets "wishing to exercise their First Amendment rights."

Claim Red Plot To Kill Suharto

JAKARTA (AP) — The Indonesian government foiled a plot two months ago to kill President Suharto and 19 of his generals and cabinet ministers as they prayed at a mosque, officials at the presidential palace said Monday.

It was reported seven men had key roles in the abortive assassination attempt. All have been arrested and will be tried by a military court, military sources said.

Officials said the plot was inspired by the Communists but that some of these involved were still at large. Several alleged Communists serving in the army were arrested in Jakarta last week, but it was not known how many in all would be implicated in the plot.

The mass assassination was to have been sprung while Suharto and his top officials knelt at the mosque on the grounds of the president's Merdeka Palace during a Moslem festival March 9, the palace officials said.

Delta Planning Wallace Drive

LANSING (AP)— Backers of former Alabama Governor George C. Wallace will hold their American Independent Party state convention Aug. 23-24 at the Jack Tar Hotel in Lansing, it was announced Monday.

Larry Lee, Wayne County chairman of Michigan Backers for Wallace, says more than 1,000 persons are expected.

The date was set at a meeting in Lansing attended by county chairmen. County conventions were scheduled for Aug. 17.

Lee says that in two weeks the organization plans to campaign in the Upper Peninsula and make an effort to get a chairman for each county. Currently, only Delta, Ontonagon and Mackinac counties have party chairmen.

Rep. Ichord Says Rifle Pact Illegal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army may have acted illegally when it awarded multimillion-dollar contracts for the production of M16 rifles without weighing the price factor of other bids, Rep. Richard Ichord, chairman of a special House Armed Services subcommittee, said Monday.

Ichord said that based on information available to him the awarding of the contracts to General Motors' Hydramatic Division and Harrington & Richardson was illegal.

He called on the Army to answer questions raised by Rep. Peter N. Kyros, D-Maine, who believes Maremont Co. of Saco, Me., should have been given the contract because its bid was $20 million lower than General Motors.

General Motors' successful bid was $56 million and Harrington & Richardson's was $42 million to produce 240,000 rifles.

In a special brief to Ichord, Kyros said: "The Army's action violated the letter, spirit, and intent not only of (its own regulations), but also of controlling legislation and decision of the Supreme Court of the United States and the comptroller general."

Kyros cited regulations and court cases which he said "are explicit and clear that 'price quotations ... shall be solicited from the maximum number of qualified sources of supplies.'"

Ichord said testimony in open hearing by Army officials indicated that production capacity was not only the prime but the sole consideration for the award of the contracts; that price was not considered at all.

"I'm concerned that this is a very poor way to treat the taxpayers of the United States," he said.

Dr. Spock Trial Sparks Protest

ANN ARBOR (AP)—About 40 persons demonstrated Monday in front of the local draft board in Ann Arbor protesting the trial of Dr. Benjamin Spock. He and four others went on trial in Boston Monday in U.S. District Court on charges of conspiring to counsel young men to evade the draft.

The Ann Arbor demonstrators, who ranged in age from teens to middle age, belong to a local group called "Resist." The organization believes the draft should be abolished. A spokesman said the group's picketing would continue until the trial ends.

Deputy Foils Dope Smuggler

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — A Butler County deputy foiled a plan Monday to sneak a hypodermic needle and heroin to a jail prisoner.

Deputy Larry Costator squeezed a tube of toothpaste and felt something inside. He cut it open with a razor blade and found the needle in a baby nipple and heroin in wax paper.

John Warford, 25, of Hamilton, was charged with possession of narcotics and a hypodermic needle.

Harold Vanlerberghe

UPCAP, UGLRC Officers Named

Escanaba made a clean sweep of the Governor's Honors List for Michigan Week today, winning both of the awards made in the Upper Peninsula.

Honored were Harold Vanlerberghe, 504 S. 11th St., and David O. Farrand, 1406 1st Ave. S.

Vanlerberghe, an Escanaba city councilman and former mayor of the city, is traffic manager of the Escanaba Paper Co., a division of Mead Corp.

He has been very active in public affairs as one of the founding officers of the Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress, director of the Michigan Municipal League, the finance committee chairman of the Delta County Board of Supervisors, member of the Upper Peninsula Committee on Air Service, and chairman of the Michigan Advisory Task Force of the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission, and a director of Upper Great Lakes Timber, Inc., the non-profit corporation created to conduct a demonstration project for the UGLRC on wood harvesting and marketing.

He was also regional chairman for the Good Roads Federation.

David Farrand, currently convalescing in Bellin Memorial Hospital, Green Bay after thoracic surgery, has been industrial development specialist of UPCAP since 1964.

He has worked on scores of industrial development projects throughout the Upper Peninsula in this period and has brought to the task a geniality and expertise that has smoothed the way for much cooperation in putting together industrial enterprises.

One of his most successful works was with the Hematite Corp., at Ishpeming, where an electric foundry is being created. The project will operate with junk metal as a source of materials. Farrand handled the development work for the plant of Buckbee Products, Inc., label manufacturers of Escanaba and his assignments have ranged from aid to hobbyist developers of hand shears to the financing of new sawmills.

Senior Citizen's Housing Is Top Need, Says Mayor

Senior citizens' low cost housing should get top priority as a most needed project, visiting Coldwater Mayor M. L. Pillsbury told Escanaba service club members at a Michigan Week luncheon at the House of Ludington Monday noon.

Mayor Pillsbury of Coldwater and Mayor Cecil B. Chase ot Escanaba "traded cities" on Monday, government day of Michigan Week, each to learn more about the operation of municipal government.

"Escanaba and Coldwater have much that is of mutual interest," said Mayor Pillsbury at the luncheon program sponsored by the Rotary Club.

"The welfare of our senior citizens is a matter of concern in both our cities, and an answer to the problem of providing adequate housing at reasonable price is No. 1 on the list of projects," he said.

The 'Best' Project

The low-cost housing for senior citizens is one of the "best" projects possible under the Housing and Urban Development program, he continued. The federal funding is 100 per cent for the project and there is no obligation to the city as sponsor.

"The senior citizens pay back the bonds and the city receives payment in lieu of taxes — and there is the satisfaction of meeting the moral and humanitarian obligations as well," Mayor Pillsbury noted.

There are other similarities between Coldwater (located in Southern Michigan near the Indiana border) and Escanaba, he said, Both cities own their electric utilities and while Coldwater has lesser population than Escanaba its assessed valuation is higher.

Coldwater has a senior citizens housing facility of 100 units that is 60 per cent completed, and Escanaba is now planning for development of such housing through the work of its Housing Commission. Registrations from senior citizens are now being received at the City Hall.

Receive Gifts

Mayor Pillsbury was introduced by Wesley Hansen, Rotarian and former mayor of Escanaba, and was presented with gifts from industries of the area including a Robinson Furniture Co. platform rocker; maple syrup from Everett Stebbins, Sayklly's Candies, and stationery, rulers and pens from Escanaba Paper Co., the State Bank, Northern Michigan National Bank and the First National Bank & Trust Co.

Ralph Kaziateck, president of the Rotary Club, presided at the luncheon program in which other service clubs were represented by William Mulvaney, Kiwanis; John LaBranche, Jaycees; Optimists, Steward Hill; Ray McDonough, Chamber of Comerce; plus the Exchange Club.

Accompanying Pillsbury were Mrs. Pillsbury, Coldwater City Manager Godfrey W. Collins and his wife, and Seaton Beauvais of the Coldwater Daily Reporter. The ladies dined separately with local hostesses Monday noon.

Monday evening the visitors were honored at a reception and dinner, attended by city officials and their wives.

Escanaba Mayor Chase, Mrs. Chase, Councilman Robert Bink (mayor pro-tem) and Mrs. Bink spent Monday in Coldwater where they toured the city and were honored at receptions, luncheons and dinners.

Seven of the 13 original colonies required voters to be property owners, and some New England states specified church membership as a requirement.

Escanaba Area Tumbling Squad Entertains Lions

Escanaba Lions Club members were entertained Monday night at their regular meeting by an 18-member tumbling squad from the Escanaba Area schools under the direction of John Prokos.

Despite limited facilities, the team went through basic exercises and displayed surprising skill in a 20-minute program.

The second part of the program featured the latest National Football League film on the Green Bay-Dallas championship game last January. Jim Schultz and Fred Sayklly were in charge of the program.

Gary Barton, Lions youth chairman, announced that the Lions Workbee on the new Boy Scout camp in Au Train Township, Alger County, is scheduled for the weekend of June 15.

Jacobsville Stone Will Be Studied

Research on fault structures in the Lake Superior basin will be conducted by Michigan Tech through a $13,500 grant awarded by the National Science Foundation. The project will be directed over a 14-month period by Prof. Lloyal O. Bacon, professor geophysics.

"The objective of the study is to obtain accurate information on the thickness of the Jacobsville sandstone which is considered to have a thickness on the order of 10,000 feet," Bacon said. He noted that there may be a fairly complex system of geologic faults under the Jacobsville, and that information on the thickness of the sandstones and the fault systems will assist in understanding the geologic history of the Lake Superior area.

The field research will be conducted along five northwest-southeast lines between Gay and Mass. Seismic measurements wil be taken and recorded throughout the summer and fall.

The Jacobsville sandstone deposit was once the resource for a Copper Country quarrying industry which supplied the brownstones for many Upper Peninsula buildings. The Escanaba Library is made of it.

Scientists use the word "ratites" to designate flightless birds. It comes from the Latin word for "raft."

Measure Those Fish For Bays de Noc Anglathon

The Anglathon of the Bays de Noc Recreational Resources Council got underway today with Big Bay de Noc and Little Bay de Noc entering a friendly competition to see which can produce the most sports fish, and with all Delta County united in a program to promote fishing.

The Anglathon starting today is unlike anything ever attempted before in the Upper Peninsula, and probably in the Midwest.

It is going to introduce the element of luck into its awards system, just as luck is such a big factor in fishing.

The fellow who catches the biggest fish will not win all the prizes. The fisherman who has his catch measured and recorded, if it adds up an award point in the contest, will get a trophy and most likely a bundle of gifts from Delta County merchants. They realize the huge potential of the coming coho salmon fishery here and want to help promote its recreation business potential.

THESE TROPHIES BECOME the possessions of fishermen whose catches add up to milestones in the Anglathon of the Bays de Noc Recreational Resources Council for Big Bay de Noc and Little Bay de Noc, starting today. The trophies are, from left, for the northern pike contest in each bay, for the bass contest and for the walleye contest. There will also be trophies for trout, steelheads and coho salmon in both bays at the milestones of measurement, plus merchandise awards from stores supporting the Delta County-wide program to convince the Midwest that it should come to the Bays de Noc for walleye, bass, northern, steelhead, trout and coho fishing. (Daily Press Photo)

Contest Between Bays

Big Bay de Noc, with a large and well developed sports fishery, seems to have an edge in the Anglathon as it opens because it is the larger body of water and has sports fishing centers at Ogontz, Nahma, Garden Corners, Garden, Fayette, Fairport and elsewhere.

Little Bay de Noc is apt to overcome any lead by the Big Bay, however, come fall and the first return of coho salmon "jacks" to the Whitefish River where they were planted early this spring. Eventually Big Bay de Noc will have a coho planting and coho fishing, but Little Bay de Noc got first bite in the salmon program in these waters and looks for the first big season of coho fishing in 1969, with the preview coming this fall with first return of the young males.

Chambers Help

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce today added its support to the Anglathon. Officers of the Bays de Noc Recreational Resources Council will address members of the Retail Division of the Chamber at their luncheon meeting Thursday to explain the potential of the contest to develop the recreational business in Delta County.

The Resources Council unites the efforts of the entire Delta County Community in recreation promotion. It was suggested by professionals of the federal and state agencies active here in recreational activities and has had strong support from local communities and from businesmen. Wynand Nieuwenkamp, head of the Alger Delta Cooperative Electric Association, Gladstone, is president of the Council.

Elmer White of Kipling, operator of White's Bayshore Cabins at Kipling, heads the Little Bay de Noc Committee of the Anglathon, and Robert Porter of Tylene's Resort, Garden Corners, heads the Big Bay Committee. The Little Bay communities active in the contest include Ford River, Breezy Point, Escanaba, Gladstone, Kipling, Masonville, Rapid River, Garth Point, Stonington.

Measuring Stations

The Anglathon will have measuring stations about both of the bays where fishermen may record their catches. There is no charge. All the fish will be measured for length and the measurements and fisherman's name will be phoned to a central compilation place. It will keep cumulative total on the measurements of six species: Bass (not legal yet), northern pike, trout, walleyes, steelheads and salmon.

When measurements of a species add up to an award point, the fisherman will get a trophy and whatever merchandise prizes have been posted for the point. Milestones in this year's measurements will be 100 yards, 200 yards, 300 yards, one-quarter mile, 650 yards, one-half mile, 1000 yards, three-quarters mile, 1,500 yards and one mile.

Take 'Em Here!

Measuring stations:

Big Bay: Tylene's Resort, Garden Corners Bar, Bay House, Deuparo's Resort, Allen's Grocery, Laughing Gull Resort, Richard's Grocery, Brownlee Cabins, Slavinski Grocery, Groleau's Grocery and Bill Sass Resort.

Little Bay de Noc: Little Noc Grocery, Vagabond Resort, Wickham's Resort, Reeves' Resort, Pike's Market, Nelson's Boats, Mathews' Cabins, Lindberg's Cabins, Brock's Cabins, White's Cabins, Stemac's Cabins, Gladstone Yacht Club, Gil's Station, Escanaba and Hank's Grocery, Ford River.

Hoholik Heads Nixon Workers

Frank S. Hoholik

LANSING — Frank S. Hoholik of Manistique, prominent Upper Peninsula industrial leader, has been named chairman of the Nixon-for-President campaign in the 11th Congressional district, Senator Emil Lockwood (R-St. Louis) announced today.

Senator Lockwood, State Chairman of the Nixon drive in Michigan, said he was "delighted that a man of Hoholik's stature and leadership ability has agreed to head up the Nixon campaign in the vast 11th Congressional district.

"Hoholik has been a strong supporter of Nixon and he is a worthy addition to other district chairmen working for the former Vice President," Lockwood said.

Hoholik, a native of Manistique, is president and general manager of the Manistique Pulp & Paper Co., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Field Enterprises, which publishes the Chicago Sun Times, Chicago Daily News, World Book Encyclopedia and Child Craft.

He also is president of Upper Great Lakes Timber, Inc., and a director of Manistique Pulp & Paper Co., American Timber Homes, Inc., and American Forest Products Industries.

Before joining Manistique Pulp & Paper Co., Hoholik was employed in the Buick and Chevrolet divisions of General Motors for more than 15 years. He was educated at DePaul University in Chicago and the University of Detroit and holds a bachelor degree in mechanical engineering and a master's degree in business administration.

Great Lake Pike Opener Is Today

By BOB VOGES

LANSING (AP) — The salmon craze and trout fever may have distracted some Michigan fishermen from other great angling opportunities.

For instance, the season for muskellunge, northern pike and walleyes opened today in Lake Huron, Michigan and Superior.

There are not too many muskies in the lakes. But the northern pike and walleyes are there if you know where to go and how to go after them.

Anglers are more familiar with the fishing for these species in Lake St. Clair, Lake Erie and the Detroit River — already open.

"The other lakes are lightly fished for northern pike," said Stan Lievense of the Conservation Department Fish Division.

He recommends trying around Isle Royale or the bays there.

"Some real, trophy-size pike are taken," he said, "especially in July."

Use Big Lures

Similar good fishing for the pike, he suggested, can be found in the area around the Les Cheneux Islands, east of St. Ignace.

"Northern pike up to 25 pounds and 40 inches are not uncommon," he said.

"If you want to get the big fish, use large lures — or live bait in large sizes," he tipped. "some use suckers from 10 to 13 inches as bait.

Lievense said the best idea is to find the local people who know where to go and what bait to use.

The isolated bays with the weedy bottoms generally are the best for the northerns, he said.

If the fisherman is serious about it, he suggested hiring a boat and a local guide.

It Takes Time

"You have to figure on working on it three days to get a trophy fish," he said. "There is bad weather, rain or high winds or just bad luck — 'They were biting the other day,' it always seems."

For walleyes, he suggested Munuskong Lake in the connecting waters between Lake Superior and Lake Huron — or any area around these waters.

Three to four pound walleyes are not uncommon in this area.

One suggestion for walleye fishing is to work off the bottom and again find what lure is working locally.

For those who just want a big fish and are not particular about the species, Lievense said there are some large catfish in the Lake St. Clair channel that no one seems to be touching.

And Now Unfoods

We have had unbooks and unheroes and undramas and now we have unfoods.

The unbooks are things like Phyllis Diller's Cook Book. And the others are in kind; they have the semblance without the substance.

The biggest worry in Michigan's biggest farming business — dairying — is currently about unmilk. Meaning the chemical milk that is called imitation milk, and the "filled" milk that is real milk which has had its animal fat replaced with vegetable fat.

Michigan's dairy farmers currently are being asked to vote "Yes" on the proposed Michigan Dairymen's Market Program, which would provide a checkoff on all milk produced to provide financing for a program of research to create new dairy foods and to promote dairy products.

The problem which the program aims to solve is broader than dairying and affects the food industry generally. It has to do with substitutes.

We have been around and around on this one in the case of oleomargarine. It was bitterly opposed as a market competition for butter. Wisconsin, a big butter producer, set a tax on oleo exorbitantly high to discourage its sale, but it has had to compromise on that one because it found that states which produce vegetable oils for oleo were boycotting Wisconsin milk.

We have now reached the ultimate: There is an imitation oleo!

★ ★ ★

There are many imitation foods, some of them nutritious, some of them gimmicks that advertise health fad elements to attract the gullible. This has been cited by Michigan State University nutritionists, who say that "filled" milk with vegetable oils to get polyunsaturated fats instead of animal fats like natural milk's butterfat, makes sense. But it makes no sense, they say, when coconut oil, a most common substitute, is used because it is a bigger offender than butterfat.

As the Upper Peninsula switches most of its pasturage from dairy farms to beef farms, it will be interested to note that the U. S. Department of Agriculture is currently wrinkling its forehead about what to do about the labeling of meat substitutes.

★ ★ ★

Thomas J. Lipton Co. of New Jersey has found a new way to prepare soy beans called beef stroganoff. The resemblance between the "beef" in this beef stroganoff and fresh meat is reported strong, but the amount of beef in the product is not specified.

Lipton is also offering other main dishes in which isolated soy protein gives the "turkey" primavera, or "chicken" la scala or "chicken" baronet their meaty bulk.

Americans have been familiar with soy beans as a food since Henry Ford proclaimed that they were going to be our salvation, good for manufacture into automobile bodies, or for fodder for the inner man. Soy bean simulates, however, have been the food of diet faddists and vegetarians. Because soy beans are very high in protein, like beef, they make an excellent if somewhat inferior substitute.

★ ★ ★

So in a pantry filled with nondairy creamers, imitation orange juice, and other ersatz foods we're now to have meat lines not strictly from the butcher shop.

How shall they be identified?

The Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act says a food is considered misbranded if it is an imitation of another, unless its label bears in type of uniform size and prominence, the word "imitation." The label in this case doesn't say that it's an imitation nor that it is not all meat. To further complicate things U. S. Department of Agriculture standards of composition, when they say that beef stroganoff must contain 45 per cent meat, are interpreted to mean that only the sack with the beef, soy protein and sour cream is relevant and not the entire dish.

With present labeling laws we feel concern for the ability of the shopping public to identify imitations.

★ ★ ★

Soy beans are the second largest industrial crop in the nation; they're cheap and nutritious and they hold some promise of helping to feed a hungry world. In the case of Lipton's stroganoff, the manufacturer explains that he uses soy protein merely to make it possible to freeze dry meal, which, dried in any other fashion, would be perishable and unpleasant. By combining dry pulverized meat in a dough with soy isolates, extruding the resulting good in a kind of macaroni and cutting it off, Lipton has found a way to prepare a dry meat.

That's great, but what about the label? It should say how much beef there is in beef stroganoff a la soy simulates.

Friendship Patterns

Are you an "interlocking" type? Or are you a "radial?"

All of us are one or the other and most of us are the former, according to information on more than 1,000 native-born white males in Detroit gathered by University of Michigan students.

For example, if you are a close friend of Tom, Dick and Harry and those three are close friends of one another, your friendship network is interlocking.

But if Tom, Dick and Harry are not friends of one another, then your friendship network is radial.

★ ★ ★

Members of interlocking groups tend to share many interests, while members of radial groups tend to choose friends for special purposes, such as a common interest in a hobby or sport.

If your friendship pattern is interlocing, you are gregarious, somewhat narrow-minded, have many friends of similar ethnic, educational and economic background and see a great deal of your friends.

If your friendship pattern is radial, you are likely to be politically independent, broadminded, a Protestant and a social comer. You can enjoy yourself without the company of others, don't discuss your personal problems with friends and, in fact, probably have few friends, although those you have cover a broad range. You prefer the independence of your own business to the security of a job in a large bureaucracy.

★ ★ ★

According to the directors of the study, only one-third of the sample had radial patterns of friendship. Within given educational levels, the brighter the individual, the more likely he was to have a radial friendship pattern.

Ultimately, the study is expected to reveal the conditions under which isolation and integration occur within and between ethnic groups in the larger society.

Differ On Vietnam

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

PORTLAND, Ore. (NEA) — Against the backdrop of Vietnam talks in Paris, the question keeps arising as to what the late John F. Kennedy might have done about Vietnam in the years 1965-1968.

One observer has noted that Vice President Humphrey is more constant and more vigorous in his defense of the late President's Vietnam policy than is Sen. Robert Kennedy.

Bob Kennedy seldom speaks of the Kennedy administration's Vietnam policy and even more rarely deals with it in a positive way.

In declaring his own present opposition to the war, he says, in fact, that he was wrong in lending his support to the conflict as a key member of his brother's administration. The clear import of this is that he believes John Kennedy himself was wrong in the Vietnam decisions he made in 1961-63.

The argument is continuously advanced by many Democratic liberals, including some aides and friends of the late President, that he would never have involved this nation in Vietnam with large ground and air forces.

One of the most recent to drop this notion is Pierre Salinger, formerly John Kennedy's press secretary and now helping his brother try to win the 1968 presidential nomination.

On its face, the argument is unprovable, since Kennedy did not live to confront the conditions in Vietnam which led President Johnson to order larger U. S. participation.

Those who try to make the unprovable case usually make highly selective use of John Kennedy's utterances on the subject—picking out those in which he voiced concern about "overcommitment" in Vietnam and in Asia generally.

Theodore Sorensen, another top John Kennedy aide now working for brother Bob, wrote in his book on the assassinated President that the U. S. commitment in Vietnam was "not one that President Kennedy felt he could abandon without undesirable consequences throughout Asia and the world."

Sorensen said the late President felt the goal was clear—to show the Communist forces in and outside South Vietnam that they could not seize that country militarily. Said Kennedy on Sept. 12, 1963, 2½ months before his death:

"We are not there to see a war lost . . . we will follow the policy which I have indicated today to advance those causes and issues which help win the war."

Kennedy did indeed want the Vietnamese people peacefully to choose their own future, wrote Sorensen. But he believed that South Vietnam was too weak to survive without aid—that it would have been defenseless against externally supported Communist forces.

Thus convinced, he never gave thought to pulling out. He put it simply: "I think we should stay."

Mr. George Weingartner
Superintendent, Rock Schools

In a world that is confronted with so many difficulties, I find it a rare and pleasing opportunity to write a letter like this.

Nine months ago when I first arrived in this community, I was confused as to what needed to be done. It did not take long for me to realize the need of the young citizenry. With the cooperation of the teenagers of this area I have spent many hours planning activities for them and working along side of them. Some individuals showed more maturity than others in their work. Others were just the opposite.

While assisting the senior class in preparing their trip to Washington, D. C., I had doubts as to the maturity of the group and whether they were ready for the new and challenging life that they would face after graduating. Now that the trip is a thing of the past, I will have to say that, having seen the behavior of these young adults as displayed in our nation's capital, I must respect them as the mature individuals they are. With few exceptions they were exemplary in their conduct. It can be said of them that they act in accordance with the environment in which they are present.

I do not know who learned more from the trip. The seniors no doubt grasped a fuller comprehension of their nation's history and of the way it is governed today. Personally I was made more aware of the outstanding citizens that make up the Class of 1968.

SENIOR

May is Senior Citizens Month. I salute Northern Michigan's older citizens, and believe it is a good time to take stock of the problems facing them.

The hard facts are that of the nation's 20 million senior citizens, over 65 one-third have incomes less than $2,500 a year; nearly two-thirds have incomes less than $5,000, and 71 per cent of those single among the aged have incomes less than $2,000. We are far from the day when a man or woman can enjoy his retirement years free from the burden of constant financial strain. There is much to be done. We must strengthen the financial structure of the Social Security system. We must enact policies to protect the independence of the aged without mortgaging the future of our youth.

I supported the 13 per cent increase in Social Security, but in many instances the gain is being wiped out by inflation. We should now tie Social Security increases, automatically, to increases in the cost of living. This can be done without an increase in the payroll tax because increased living costs mean increased revenues coming into the system.

We should increase widow's benefits from the present 82 per cent to 100 per cent. The Social Security is now a patchwork altered, amended, and changed every few years. The time is here for a comprehensive study of the entire system. Perhaps through a system of tax sharing, Congress should consider beefing up state assistance to meet the needs of our older citizens.

I believe we should raise limitations on senior citizens outside income from the present $1,500 to at least $2,100.

North's jump from one to three no-trump is the correct response in any standard American system. With eight points in high cards and a six card minor suit, North wants to be in game but does not have the potential to try for the 11 tricks necessary to make a minor suit game.

There is no reason to shilly-shally and he jumps to three no-trump. No guaranty of success goes with this bid but if you wait for guaranteed games you will be a losing player. Winning players push for games.

The game contract is a lay down for experts. But a lot of average players would fail to make it.

South must win the first spade in his own hand to retain the king of spades in dummy as an eventual entry for the diamond suit.

At trick two, South must lead the queen of diamonds. If he leads the 10, West will rise with his king and dummy's diamonds will never come home.

If South leads the queen, West's best play is to cover with his king and right here South has his last chance to go wrong.

If he returns a low diamond to his 10 in an effort to collect six diamond tricks, he will go right out of business. West's nine will still stop the suit and South will make only three diamond tricks.

South's correct play is to lead dummy's jack of diamonds. This will cost him a trick in case diamonds were 3-2 or 4-1 with the nine spot guarded, but the loss will not be important. South can count on two tricks in each major suit. Thus, he only needs five diamond tricks for his game and should play in such manner as to insure making them.

Ann Landers

Certain People Are Without Any Taste

Dear Ann Landers: Regarding the 6th grade kid who signed himself "Privacy Needed" and complained because the lady teacher kept busting into the boys' toilet looking for smokers: I can understand the boy's embarrassment and you were right when you said the investigating should be done by a male, but, as a lady teacher who has had to do the investigating because no male is around to do it, may I present my position?

Smoking is the least of the deviltry going on in junior high school toilet rooms. The boys empty the ground-soap containers and throw the stuff all over the floor. They fill balloons with water and pour it into the hall trash receptacles. They drop rolls of tissue into the toilets and stop up the whole works. At a school where a friend of mine teaches, the boys actually tore the plumbing out of the walls.

Recently, we had the bathrooms painted and one of the boys told me I had to come with him and see the funniest thing in the world. He took me into the lavatory, and there on the ceiling were greasy black shoe prints. Several boys must have held one kid upside down to achieve this startling effect.

Since you strive for realism I thought you might like to hear from someone who is able to tell it like it is. — UNWILLING INTRUDER

Dear Unwilling: I appreciate your letter and am printing it at the risk of giving the little demons new ideas. If greasy shoe prints begin to appear on freshly painted ceilings all over the country, you and I must accept the blame.

I still say — a male should do the investigating and lady teachers should stay the heck out of boys' bathrooms.

Dear Ann Landers: Why is it that during a time of sorrow there is always someone around who is measuring the intensity of grief displayed by the family? One hears statements such as "She must be hard as nails — hasn't shed a tear through this whole thing." If there is a display of agony, the same person will remark, "She must be awfully guilty or she wouldn't be putting on such a show."

Recently I heard this comment at a funeral where the children wept openly: "Now that it's too late they show some feeling for their poor old mother. When she was alive they didn't bother with her."

For the life of me I can't figure out why people make such tasteless, unkind and ignorant remarks. Can you? — BAFFLED BETTY

Dear Baff: Because they are tasteless, unkind and ignorant people. What else?

Dear Ann Landers: I grew up with a girl who has always been a terrible liar. Catherine is one day younger than I am. Our birthdays fall the same week. Last week I heard her tell the ladies of our garden club that she is 42. She is 48 — born in 1920, just as I was.

Do you think I ought to give the ladies the facts? I hate to see her get away with it. — CROWDING FIFTY AND NOT ASHAMED

Dear Crowding: What is she getting away with? Do you think anyone gives a hangnail whether Catherine is 42 or 48 or 98? Age is only a number and most people could care less about someone else's number. Forget it.

Women's Army Corps Observes 26th Birthday

The Women's Army Corps—formed within six months of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor—is celebrating its 26th anniversary this month.

The Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, forerunner of the present Women's Army Corps, was established by Congress in May, 1942.

Actual operations for the new WAAC began modestly when the first classes, composed of some 770 women, started training. The "experiment" of employing women to work with the Army became an immediate success.

By the first anniversary the WAAC boasted some 60,000 members, filling more than 150 different jobs at all major Army commands in the United States, North Africa and England.

The word "auxiliary" was dropped for the organization's name in 1943 by Congress.

Today, the Womens Army Corps (WAC) numbers about 10,000.

Women wishing further information about the Corps should contact Sgt. Nelson Sebring, 902 Ludington St., or telephone 786-0403.

Convict Miriani Of Tax Evasion

DETROIT (AP) — Louis C. Miriani, 73-year-old city councilman and former Detroit mayor, faces possible imprisonment of 20 years and a fine of $40,000 on his U. S. District Court conviction Monday of income tax evasion.

A jury of eight women and four men convicted Miriani on four counts after deliberating 5 hours and 45 minutes. Judge Charles G. Neese of Knoxville, Tenn., who presided, said Miriani would be sentenced Aug. 10.

Miriani's attorneys said the conviction will be appealed.

The government contended Miriani underestimated his income by $261,100 from 1959 through 1962. He was unseated by Jerome P. Cavanagh for mayor in 1961, but won reelection to the council in 1965.

Urge Income Tax Break For Cost Of Private School

LANSING (AP)—A resolution urging Congress to enact legislation granting tax adjustment to parents of nonpublic school pupils won approval in the State Senate.

The concurrent resolution calls on Congress to permit parents of nonpublic school children to apply for "a credit against their income tax or a deduction from adjusted gross income in their computation of federal income tax for payments made to nonpublic schools."

The measure was sponsored by Sen. Oscar E. Bouwsma, R-Muskegon.

Identical bills were introduced in each house earlier this year, calling for $21 million in state funds to be granted to parents of nonpublic school pupils. Both House and Senate education committees failed to report out the measures. Committee chairmen said they wanted a chance to study the controversial measure in depth.

Delta Creates Health Council To Plan Services

Delta County organized a Delta County Comprehensive Health Planning Council at a meeting of 35 persons at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce Building Monday night interested in health services locally.

The committee, for which officers will be elected at the next meeting here on June 17, will serve as Delta's representative in a state and federal program of citizen planning for health services. The groups will be screening boards for federal grants and other aids under Public Act 89749 of 1966.

Most of Delta County was represented at the gathering which identified Delta's greatest immediate health needs as:

1. Mental health services.
2. Nursing homes.
3. Hearing and vision help to correct deficiencies shown by school screening and other examinations.
4. Specialized medical services.

The Council plans to survey the local deficiencies in health services and establishments. It creates committees on: Hearing and Vision, Mental Health, Environmental Health, Aging, Rehabilitation, Education, Public Health and Membership.

Charles Follo, University of Michigan Extension director in the U.P. acted as temporary chairman, and Ray LaPorte, director of the Menominee-Delta-Schoolcraft Community Action Agency, was acting secretary-treasurer.

Speakers included John Edmonson, administrator of Frances Bell Memorial Hospital, Ishpeming and president of the Upper Peninsula Health Planning Council, on the functions of the county councils, and Thomas Renn, Iron Mountain, chairman of Zone 2 (Delta Menominee, Dickinson) of the U.P. Health Planning Council.

Renn said that county councils were being formed in Menominee and Dickinson as well as Delta. These councils will affiliate with the U.P. Council and through it with the Michigan Comprehensive Health Planning Council created by Governor Romney.

Signal Dispute Idles U.P. Mine

CALUMET (AP)—Most workers Monday refused for the seventh day to descend into the Kingston mine of Calumet & Hecla Corp.

Officials of the firm said a few men went down into the copper mine but most of the 290 employes stayed at ground level.

The miners halted work May 10, protesting a company order that an emergency bell no longer be used to signal from within the mine to a hoist operator at ground level.

No negotiations on the issue were immediately scheduled.

Members of Local 4312 of the United Steelworkers of America had objected to the order because the firm made the change without first notifying the union or miners.

Some miners also said that when the emergency bell system is used, they can be sure it is operative.

Calumet & Hecla officials ordered the men to use the regular communication system for nonemergency purposes. The regular system is a two-way device which can be answered from ground level. The emergency bell cannot be answered by employes at ground level.

All Male Jury In Spock Trial

BOSTON (AP) — The federal government outlines its case today against Dr. Benjamin Spock and four others charged with conspiring to counsel young men to avoid the draft.

Government prosecutors in opening statements to a jury of 12 men and three male alternates, tell what they intend to prove against the five defendants.

The jury was impaneled Monday in U.S. District Court despite arguments by the defense that women were discriminated against on the panel.

Leonard Boudin, Spock's lawyer, questioned Court Clerk Russell Peck why there were only nine women on the list of 110 jury prospects.

Peck admitted the list made him look like a "misogynist," or woman hater, but said selection was made at random.

Judge Francis J.W. Ford denied a motion by the defense to discard the list and draw up another.

Boudin did not indicate why he wished more women on the jury.

Spock, 65, is on trial with Yale chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43; Michael Ferber, 23, a graduate student at Harvard; Mitchell Goodman, 44, of New York and Temple, Maine, an author and teacher; and Marcus Raskin, 33, co-director of the Institute for Political Studies in Washington.

Abandon Ship In North Sea

LONDON (AP) — Fire broke out aboard the 5,000-ton Norwegian cruise ship Blenheim today, forcing her 98 passengers and most of her crew of 80 to abandon ship in the middle of the North Sea. One passenger was reported injured.

A skeleton crew stayed aboard to fight the fire, and tugs which arrived on the scene joined in the effort.

Two Danish fishing trawlers relieved the Blenheim's packed lifeboats of about 65 of the passengers and took them to the Danish port of Esbjerg.

The sea was calm as a fleet of rescue ships, planes and helicopters converged on the scene 170 miles west of the Danish harbor of Tyboron. The armada was hurriedly summoned from Britain, Scandinavia and the Netherlands.

College Alumni Club Organizes

The Bay de Noc Community College Alumni Association held its first general meeting Monday night in the American Timber Homes Model A-Frame. About 25 people attended.

By-laws, registration fees, and kinds of membership were approved and final plans were made for a May 26 reception for Bay de Noc graduates.

August 18 was set for an alumni picnic. Committees are being formed for the event.

Purposes of the Alumni Association are to promote community interest in the community college, to promote social fellowship for alumni, and to promote benefits for Bay de Noc Community College students and faculty.

Dr. Richard Rinehart welcomed the gathering. Dr. William Butt, academic dean of the College told of the important role which the Alumni Association can play in the future growth and development of the college.

He stated the Alumni could give receptions for new faculty members, give tours of the Upper Peninsula in the fall, help find housing for faculty and students, and generally promote the college through conversation.

Two new committee chairmen were appointed. Eugene Slagstad for the Civics Committee, and Gene Hebert for the By-Laws Committee. The next meeting will be held in July.

to push their long-standing demands, beginning with an aircraft factory in Nantes.

Schools Closed

Universities remain closed, and high schools in the Paris region joined the strikes Monday, with some teachers remaining on duty only to look after any pupils that showed up.

Eastern France, Alsace and Lorraine were least affected by the strikes so far, but the 25,000 men of the Peugeot auto factory at Sochaux, near the Swiss border, walked out.

The ports of Dunkerque, Le Havre, Bordeaux and Marseille were tied up. Several foreign freighters bound for Marseille with perishable cargo were sent to Genoa, Italy, to unload.

Orly, the international airport near Paris, was closed. Airliners were rerouted to Brussels or other capitals, and chartered buses took airline passengers to and from Brussels.

Some planes got into Le Bourget, the French capital's No. 2 airfield.

College To Honor Prentiss Brown

SAULT STE. MARIE—Prentiss M. Brown of St. Ignace, the "father" of the Mackinac Bridge, will be honored by Lake Superior State College at commencement exercises on June 8.

He will be recognized with the first "Distinguished Citizen" award to be presented by the college.

"It is appropriate that we should recognize Prentiss Brown on the 10th anniversary of the bridge; and this year, when the bridge bonds will be retired out of bridge earnings for the first time," said Dr. Kenneth J. Shouldice, chancellor at LSSC.

Brown, an attorney, financier, statesman and bridge builder, was the first Democrat elected to Congress from Michigan's old 11th Congressional District which included parts of the Upper and Lower Peninsulas and went on to become U.S Senator from Michigan. He also served briefly as the director of the Office of Price Administration.

Once proposed as a candidate for vice president, a running mate of Franklin D. Roosevelt, he declined at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago, saying, "My daughter is being crowned Cherry Queen in my home district tonight and I think that is enough honor for the Brown family for one day."

Today Brown, heading for his 79th birthday next June 18, picks the "financing of the Mackinac Bridge as the greatest achievement of my career."

Court Upholds Antiriot Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court rejected today an appeal by Stokely Carmichael and other Black Power militants seeking to strike down Tennessee disorderly conduct and antiriot laws.

The appeal claimed the laws inhibit free speech and can be used to unconstitutionally regulate peaceful picketing, speech-making and assembly.

The suit grew out of arrests and other action by Nashville police during violence in the Negro section of the city last April. It was dismissed by a three-judge federal court in Nashville last October.

The court in Nashville described as "devoid of factual support and indeed even fanciful" the allegation that policemen and city officials combined to harass Carmichael and the others and to deprive them of their constitutional rights.

The Supreme Court affirmed this judgment in a terse ruling that also noted Justice William O. Douglas had dissented.

Bullet Victim Makes Comeback

By The Associated Press

Last October, just before her third birthday, a little girl was rushed to Pontiac General Hospital with fragments of a bullet in her brain.

When she awoke from a coma two and a half days later, Tina Tovar was completely paralyzed, unable even to lift her head.

Now, seven months later, Tina is capable of walking by herself. She is able to talk, "almost at the level of a normal 3½-year-old," says her therapist, 26-year-old Karen Miller.

And tonight, the happy, black-haired little girl will be honored as the 1968 Kenny Girl, the symbol of the physical rehabilitation efforts of Michigan's Kenny Foundation.

The Rehabilitation Foundation celebrates its 21st birthday with a dinner in Detroit.

Never Solved

Tina was watching a television show in the living room of her home in Pontiac Sunday morning, Oct. 8, when a bullet slammed through an aluminum screen door, pierced a door into the living room and struck the child in the head.

The shooting never has been solved by Pontiac police, but Chief William K. Hanger believes it was an accident.

The therapy Tina is undergoing, says Mrs. Miller, is aimed at increasing the strength in her weakened muscles as well as enabling uninjured parts of her brain to take over coordination.

"Two months ago, she started to walk by herself, and she's catching up pretty quickly," says the young therapist, who has become one of Tina's closest friends.

Lacked Confidence

"The hard thing was to get her to stand by herself. This took quite a time because she didn't have confidence."

Part of the daily, hour-long play routine between Tina and her therapist is a game in which Tina plucks a coin from the floor.

"That's for balance more than anything else," says Mrs. Miller. "At first she would hold onto a person close to her to pick up the coin. Then, all of a sudden one day—maybe a month ago—she bent down and picked it up by herself."

So far, Tina's right hand is still too weak and uncoordinated to grasp the coin. "That's what we're concentrating on now," adds Mrs. Miller.

Climbs Stairs

Another facet of the rehabilitation is a task in which Tina—with Mrs. Miller's aid—climbs up a short flight of three stairs, turns around then climbs back down.

"She likes to do everything possible by herself," says Mrs. Miller, "and if you pretend she's doing it by herself she's extremely pleased," her big brown eyes wide with delight.

When she's not at the Kenny Rehabilitation Center at Pontiac General, Tina gives her two brothers, Victor, 7, and Frank, 2, a run for their money, zipping around the linoleum-covered living room floor on her tricycle.

Still Weak

Up to a month ago, says Mrs. Nicholas Tover, Tina's mother, the little girl had to be strapped to a back support on the tricycle, but now she rides it by herself, with no aid.

"She's still a little weak to play a lot of real games," says her mother, "but they all play ring-around-the-rosey together."

Tina, says her mother, takes after her Mexican-born father, with her black hair and brown eyes.

Her father is a night-shift worker at General Motors' Fisher Body plant in Pontiac.

"No doubt about it," sums up Mrs. Miller, "she's our darling."

TOTALLY PARALYZED after a bullet struck her head in cruel accident, Tina Tovar, 3, of Pontiac, is gradually regaining her ability to function. Here she climbs stairs with the help of a therapist, Tina will be honored tonight as the 1968 Kenny Girl. (AP Wirephoto)

Court Refuses To Ban Sale Of Car Registration Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court rejected Monday an appeal that claimed New York state violates the privacy of its citizens by selling auto registration data to the highest commercial bidder.

Corliss Lamont, a wealthy writer and philosopher, brought the appeal when his suit to stop the sales was dismissed by a federal court in New York City.

New York sells its data to R. L. Polk & Co., a Delaware corporation, for about $86,000 a year. The company deals similarly with most of the other states.

Five Michigan Men Honored

SAIGON (AP) — Five Michigan men were among troops of the 3rd Brigade, U.S. Army 9th Infantry Division, honored Monday for their defense of Saigon's southern edge.

Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer Jr., Deputy commander of the U.S. Army in Vietnam, said after the hour-long ceremony that he believed the efforts of the brigade in the "Y" bridge area had destroyed the enemy's ability to make a coordinated attack in the near future."

Among the awards presented were 36 Silver Stars, six of them posthumous, three Distinguished Flying Crosses, and 31 Bronze Stars.

Sgt. Franklin A. Townsend of Port Huron was awarded a silver star posthumously. Sgt. 1.c. Stanley Thornburgh of Inkster received the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry with Bronze Star, and a Silver Star. Pfc. Leslie Franklin of Alma was presented with a Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry with Silver Star, and a Silver Star. Spec. 4 Edward J. Chaffin of Onondaga was awarded a Bronze Star. The Distinguished Flying Cross (Army) was presented to WO James D. Moore of Detroit.

Crime In Streets

Belmont Park Racing Begins

NEW YORK (AP) — Calumet Farm, whose Forward Pass won the Preakness by six lengths and the Kentucky Derby on the disqualification of Dancer's Image, figured in two firsts at the opening of the new Belmont Park race track Monday.

The very first race run before the new $30.7 million stand went to Calumet's Ever On, a full brother to Forward Pass.

In the fifth race, Calumet's Hilario became the first horse to be disqualified at the new track, which had been closed since Oct. 27, 1962. Hilario finished second to Wise Road, but his number was taken down by the stewards for interference at the head of the stretch. In Reality won the first stake race. The 4-year-old Florida-bred colt, owned by Frances Genter of Minneapolis, Minn., and ridden by Jorge Velasquez, drew out in the stretch to win the $55,800 Carter Handicap by 1½ lengths over Tumiga.

In Reality paid $6.40 after running the seven furlongs in 1:21 4-5 under top weight of 124 pounds.

Hannan Pitches Bisons Victory

By The Associated Press

At the rate he's setting down International League batters, Jim Hannan may yet pitch his way back to the Washington Senators.

The hard-throwing right-hander pitched his fifth complete game and recorded his fifth victory against only two defeats Monday night as the Buffalo Bisons beat the Toledo Mud Hens 8-3 for their eighth victory in their last nine starts. Buffalo moved into a virtual tie for third place, just 1½ games out of the lead.

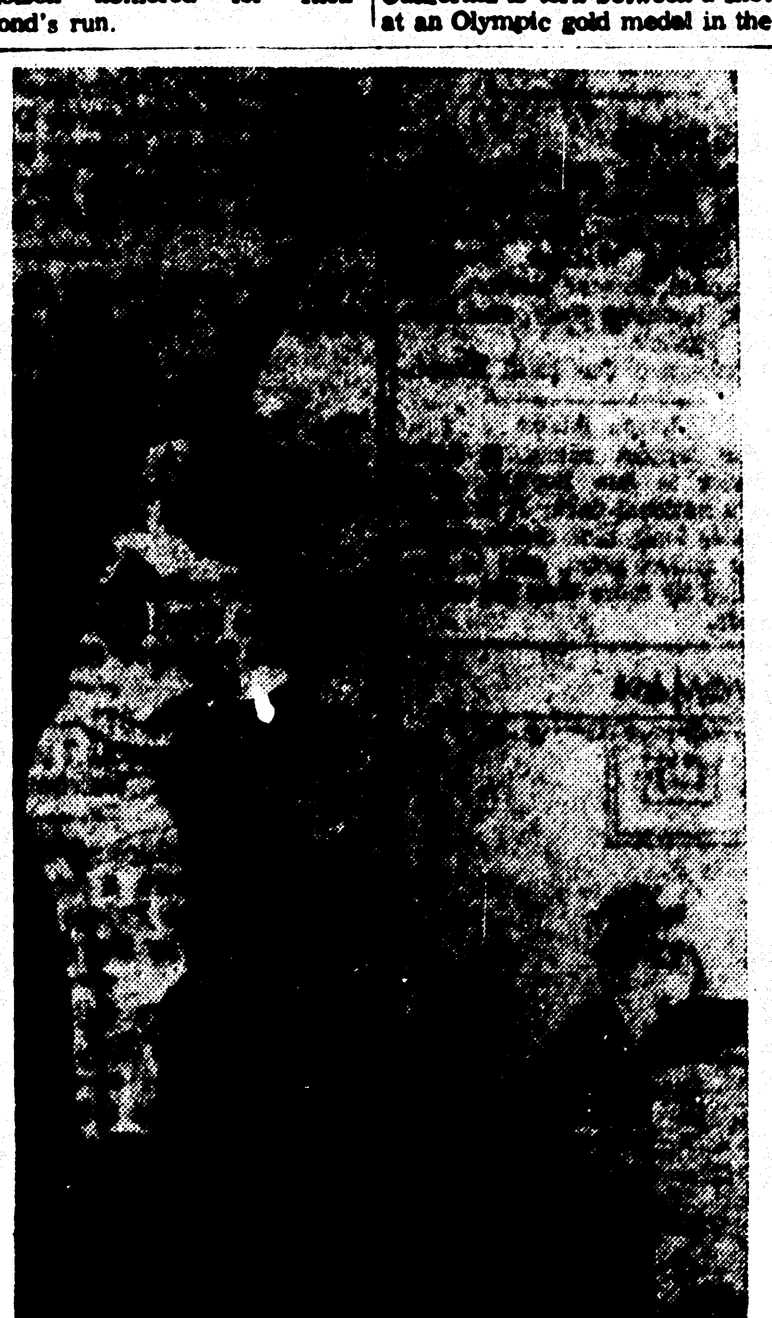
The Columbus Jets pulled to within half a game of front-running Rochester by whipping Louisville 3-2 for the Colonels' ninth loss in their last 13 starts. The Jacksonville Mets knocked off the Richmond Braves 3-1, while Rochester's scheduled game at Syracuse was rained out.

In 53 innings, Hannan has given up 53 hits, walked 13 and struck out 34. He now sports a 3.23 earned run average. Ironically, he was the losing pitcher in the only game the Bisons have lost in their hot streak.

Hannan got all the runs he needed Monday night in the first inning when Bob Chance belted his ninth homer behind two walks and Gary Holman hit his third after a Toledo error.

Toledo starter Mike Marshall struck out 15 batters for a club record but never recovered from Buffalo's five-run first inning. Three of the eight runs off him were unearned. A wild pitch by Dave Morehead put George Spriggs in position to score on a single by Elvio Jimenez in the sixth inning for the winning Columbus run at Louisville. John Gelnar picked up his fourth triumph in five decisions with relief help from Dock Ellis.

An infield hit, an error, and infield out, a double by Amos Otis and a single by Bob Pfeil gave Jacksonville two runs in the fifth at Richmond. Relief pitchers Bob Hendley and Don Shaw blanked the Braves over the last 3 2-3 innings. Dave Nicholson homered for Richmond's run.



DOUBLE DUTY — Neither Red Sox first baseman George Scott nor his shadow were successful in fielding this high throw from third baseman Dalton Jones.

TIGER HEROES, Al Kaline and Eddie Mathews, sport big smiles after they both hit home runs in Detroit's 7-0 victory over the Washington Senators Sunday. Kaline's homer was the 307th of his career and put him ahead of Hank Greenberg for the all-time Tiger lead. (AP Wirephoto)

Johnson's Ninth Inning Double Defeats Houston

By The Associated Press

Alex Johnson, given another chance to prove himself, still doesn't feel comfortable at the plate. But he is making believers of National League pitchers, who also are feeling uneasy when he is hitting.

"I don't feel natural at the plate for the long ball," moaned the 25-year-old Cincinnati outfielder. "I'm just blooping them.

Despite his troubles, Johnson managed a run-scoring single and later a game-winning double in the ninth inning Monday night, giving the Reds a 3-2 uphill victory over the Houston Astros.

Johnson's three hits raised his batting average to .333 and gave him 15 runs batted in as a bona-fide regular for the first time in five major league tries.

Ed Charles, a 35-year-old veteran given another chance, clouted his second home run of the game in the ninth inning, lifting the New York Mets over Pittsburgh 2-1.

Larry Jaster continued what he does best — beat Los Angeles — by hurling St. Louis past the Dodgers 2-1 with a two-hitter. In the only other NL game, Felipe Alou singled in a ninth inning run, boosting Atlanta to a 6-5 triumph over San Francisco and into sole possession of second place.

Johnson, traded to St. Louis in the Bill White deal after failing to win a starting job in two seasons at Philadelphia, flopped in two seasons with the Cardinals before the Reds got him for Johnny Edwards last winter. He quickly won the left field position.

He singled in a run in the seventh inning against the Astros, but Jim Wynn's two-run triple in the third still left Cincinnati behind 2-1 entering the ninth.

After Mack Jones walked as a pinch hitter and moved to second on a sacrifice, Pete Rose singled in the tying run against loser Don Wilson and Johnson followed with his double off the left field wall against reliever Jim Ray.

"I'm gripping the bat too hard," Johnson still insisted. "I'm not comfortable and I'm not getting good follow through."

But still, as Cincinnati Manager Dave Bristol said, "Johnson comes to the ball park, puts on his uniform and produces."

Charles, a seven-year veteran still trying to win a job after signing with the Mets as a free agent this spring, led off the ninth with his fifth homer of the season as a part-time performer. The third-baseman, second on the Mets in homers and runs batted in, homered with two out in the fourth off loser Bob Veale.

His clouts gave the victory to rookie Jerry Koosman, who pitched a five-hitter for his sixth triumph against two losses.

Jaster, who blanked the Dodgers five straight times in his rookie year in 1966, gave up a run without a hit in the first inning, and the only hits off him were singles by Paul Popovich in the fifth and Wes Parker in the ninth.

Bobby Tolan singled and scored on Orlando Cepeda's double in the first for St. Louis and Tolan won it in the eighth with a two-out single after Lou Brock doubled off loser Don Sutton.

Alou's hit came with the bases loaded and none out after the Giants had tied the score in the top of the ninth with three runs. Bob Tillman, who singled in a run in the second and scored on a squeeze bunt and set up another run in the sixth with a hit, doubled to open the ninth and his pinch runner scored the winning run.

Football Notes

NEW YORK (AP) — The pro football owner-player battle will heat up again this week when the delegates of the National Football League Players' Association meet with a committee of owners, probably Thursday.

The owners spent considerable time on the problem at their meetings in Atlanta last week and have drawn up a master plan to present to the players.

The players are asking for $500 per man for pre-season games, an annual $5 million payment to the player pension fund and a $15,000 minimum salary.

With the teams due to report in about seven or eight weeks, both sides are running out of time. A compromise may be the solution.

Earl McCullouch of Southern California is torn between a shot at an Olympic gold medal in the 110-meter hurdles or a pro football career with the Detroit Lions. . . Other potential Olympians who have been drafted by the pros include shot putter Randy Matson, (Atlanta), high jumper Ed Caruthers (Detroit), sprinter Tommie Smith (Los Angeles), sprinter Jim Hines (Miami) and wrestler Curley Culp Denver.

The Los Angeles Rams picked up 913 yards when they acquired Tommy Watkins from Detroit along with Milt Plum, Pat Studstill and a No. 1 draft choice for Bill Munson.

Watkins, coming back strong after missing the entire 1966 season because of knee surgery, gained 361 yards as a running back, 411 as a punt return man, 57 on kickoff runbacks and 84 on passes for the Lions.

Studstill, handicapped by a pulled hamstring, caught only 10 passes and was only a part time punter.

Baltimore and Washington will play a rookie game at the Colts' camp in Westminster, Md. the morning of July 14 but that won't be the first football game. The All American game at Atlanta, a clash between two college all-star teams, is set for June 28. . . Raymond Berry will coach the receivers for the Dallas Cowboys now that he has retired as an active player.

Twins' Errors Help Tigers To Victory

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Denny McLain has been emulating Cuban curveballer Camilo Pascual, and the sturdy Detroit right-hander says it's paying off for him.

McLain threw a three-run home run pitch to Minnesota's Dick Reese Monday night, but bided his time and let the Twins give him his sixth victory against one defeat, 4-3 in 10 innings.

Three of the Tigers' runs were unearned off loser Jim Merritt, and Detroit scored its winning run in the 10th without a base hit as the Twins committed their third and fourth errors.

"The biggest thing," said McLain, who leads the American League with six complete games, "is that I've been watching Camilo Pascual, who I think has the best curve I've ever seen.

"I was watching him Sunday, and he reaches way back to throw his curve. I've been short-arming my curve, bringing my arm up close to my shoulder instead of reaching way back. You might give a runner a little more chance that way, but that hitter still has to get a hit to score the run."

Pinpoint control also has returned for McLain. "Two years ago I had trouble with wildness at the end of the year. And I had the same trouble early last year. I couldn't get my curve over.

"The difference now is I can get my curve over in any situation. I'm throwing it on 2-2, 3-2 and 3-1."

McClain didn't walk a man for the third time this season.

Reese hit his blast after Tony Oliva and Rich Rollins singled.

After that, the Twins didn't get a man past second against McLain, now 6-1.

Twins' Manager Cal Ermer had two late-inning defensive replacements blow up in his face. But Ermer steadfastly defended his moves of inserting Jackie Hernandez at shortstop and Ron Clark at third base.

Hernandez' throwing error with two out in the 10th let Kaline go to second, then Clark let Bill Freehan's grounder get away from him to allow Kaline to score the winning run.

"This is the first time this year they've beaten us," Ermer said of his defensive moves. "I know good and well the men I put in there are better defensively than the men I had in there for their hitting the first part of the game.

"I'd make that move again. I think you've got to make it in trying to protect a lead."

MARINETTE — Coach Jack Magnuson was looking for a better performance from his Escanaba golf team today in a dual meet at Iron Mountain in the Eskymos' final look at the rugged Pine Mountain course before the Upper Peninsula tournament there Friday.

The Escanaba golfers tackled Little River Country Club Monday and came out on the short end of the varsity match with Marinette.

The Marines "A" team defeated the Eskymos 312 to 333 with the best four of five scores used for the result, according to Wisconsin high school rules. Escanaba's "B" team scrambled to a draw with Marinette at 358.

Medalist for the Marines was Gary Poquette, who fired a neat 74 over the par 36-35—71 layout. Jim Moore carded a pair of 40s for an 80 to lead Escanaba. The scores:

Escanaba "A" Team: Jim Moore, 40-40—80; Greg Olson, 45-38—83; Bill Hebert, 43-41—84; Jerry Brazeau, 42-44—86; Bob Feller, 45-43—88. Marinette "A" Team: Gary Poquette, 38-36—74; Mike Stang, 42-36—78; Terry Poquette, 40-38—78; Fred Stubenvall, 45-37—82; Dave Melegari, 41-41—82.

Fregosi Mauls Boston; Angels Win In Eleven

By The Associated Press

It isn't as if the Boston Red Sox didn't know any better; they can tell when a guy is on a hitting streak as well as anybody. It was just that they couldn't push the winning run across before Jim Fregosi got up to bat again.

Fregosi was murdering the Red Sox all night Monday — a homer in the first inning, a triple in the third, a double in the eighth — and when Rico Petrocelli's ninth-inning homer tied the score for Boston, the Sox desperately had to find a way to stop Fregosi.

In the bottom of the ninth, they came up with an acceptable method, giving him an intentional walk with two out and a man on second.

Neither team could score into the 11th and with two out and a runner at second again, the Sox took an awful chance. They pitched to Fregosi.

Moments later, the ball was bouncing off the left field wall, Fregosi had his cycle, the Angels had their 5-4 victory and the Red Sox had their lesson for the evening.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit beat Minnesota 4-3 in 10 innings, Baltimore edged Chicago 2-1 and New York beat Washington 6-1.

Fregosi scored three runs and drove in two as the Angels took a 3-0 lead that was shortened by solo homers from George Scott and Elston Howard. Petrocelli's shot came with two out in the ninth.

Jim Hardin stopped the White Sox on six hits and Boog Powell hit a two-run homer for the Orioles, who ended a three-game losing streak. Hardin pitched his way out of several jams.

Jim Bouton won his first start for the Yankees since 1966, scattering eighth hits and fanning Washington slugger Frank Howard three times. Joe Pepitone hit his first home run of the season for the Yanks.

Western To Hire Negro On Staff

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Western Michigan University intends to hire a Negro for its athletic staff, according to a statement by Dr. Joseph T. Hoy, athletic director.

Negro athletes at the university who petitioned for more equitable treatment" also have been told "efforts are being made to improve communication between black athletes and athletic department personnel."

The assurance came Monday in a joint statement by Hoy and a sophomore trackman from New York, Tom Randolph, 26, a spokesman for Negro athletes at the university.

The statement followed a meeting of officials and the athletes who last week asked changes in the school's coaching policies, scholarships, counseling and personnel utilization.

A letter signed "Black Athletes" charged: "The University is incapable of equitable relationships with black athletes," but said it (the letter) was "not to be considered as any form of threat." At that time, Randolph said no boycott was planned by Negro athletes.

The statement also expressed Hoy's "full confidence in his coaching staff as he has had in the past and also said "The university has been interviewing Negro candidates for the coaching staff and will have Negro representation on the athletic staff."

Administration representatives at the meeting in addition to Hoy were Pat Clysdale, administrative assistant to Hoy, and Hal Bateman, sports information director.

Caution Urged On Temporary Tire Repairs

NEW YORK (AP) — Repairing flat tires with a rubber plug inserted from outside the tire should be done only in emergency situations, says the Rubber Manufacturers Association.

It notes strict limits have been set by the industry on the use of all temporary repairs, including plugs, blow-out patches and aerosol type sealants. Motorists using such devices are cautioned not to exceed speeds of 50 miles per hour or drive more than 100 miles before having a permanent repair made.

'Casual' Holdup

DETROIT (AP) — "Casual" would be the best word to describe the holdup of a west side Detroit gas station Monday.

Tony Daleo, 25, said a woman entered the station and asked, "How would you like to be held up?" Then she suggested they could split the money.

Getting a negative reaction, the woman walked out to a waiting car, came back, put her hand in her pocket as though she had a gun and demanded all the money from Daleo's cash register. She and her male companion fled in the car.

Youth Beat

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

Sunglass Buy-Boom: American Optometric Association worriesabout rapidly increasing misuse of sunglasses. Not advisable to wear "for effect." Shades should not be worn at night and/or indoors. Continued "inside" usage impedes the eyes' ability to tolerate normal light. Major function of properly designed glasses is to reduce the intensity of ultraviolet and infrared rays. Both are invisible. The current boon in sunglass sales is more "fashion" than "function." The American Optometric Association has a lens and an ax to grind. Write to it at 7000 Chippewa St., St. Louis, Mo. 63119. The eyes you save may be your own! Its booklet about sunglasses is super.

★ ★ ★

RADIO RAH RAH: Over 47 million sets in United States (ten million in cars — 90 per cent of all new cars are radio equipped.) Twenty million sets are transistor-powered. Fascinating omission of vital detail: Radio Advertising Bureau neglects to break out ownership pattern of teens. The under 18 group are defined as a 25 million "youth market;" and their listening, not purchasing, patterns are briefly described. Small wonder teens feel that the "Seal of Disapproval" should be given to tunnelized research people who refuse even to relate the teen role to the total role of the dollars toward the nation's cash registers.

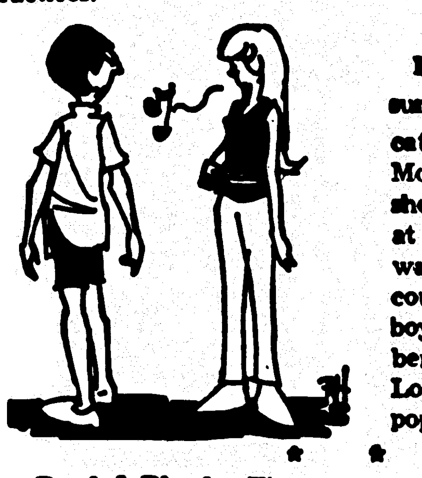
★ ★ ★

Bulging Bulgarian Teen-Agers: Communist leaders feel teens are turned out and off. Plan campaign to close the yap gap between youth and Communist party leadership. Young writers being added to "the party line" staff. Emphasis being placed on a new central agency to relate to younger generation and to reduce the "arrogance, sectarianism, neglect and unnecessary interference" of the old guard party people. First secretary has ordered more marches, banners, badges, songs and uniforms. A fast visit to Sunset Strip, Haight-Ashbury, Olde Town and Greenwich Village could be useful to concerned rednicks from the bulky Balkans.

★ ★ ★

Denver Goes Mod: Modular learning units are 30 minutes long. Denver's high schools have 14 a day. Gives curriculum greater flexibility, more responsibility to the student. Logical step as closed-circuit teaching closes in on closed-mind teaching practices.

★ ★ ★



Bare Look For Boys: Signs of summer. Teen boys aren't abdicating the right to show skin. More boys than ever wearing shorts, sneakers and sportshirts at the first signs of summer warmth. Not just for sport or country either. Big city teen boys appearing in growing numbers with their mini-pants. Look for this trend to really pop this summer!

★ ★ ★

Bonded Blonde: Times are a-changing. A certain cosmetic house is now pushing the redhead almost as vigorously as the blonde head. Says everyone should try at least once. See an effort to tune in on teen adventurousness and also to turn the tide against the teen blonde surfer look. It probably won't work. Whatever the new hair color is, it won't be foisted upon teens by mad, mad Madison Avenue! They will create it themselves.

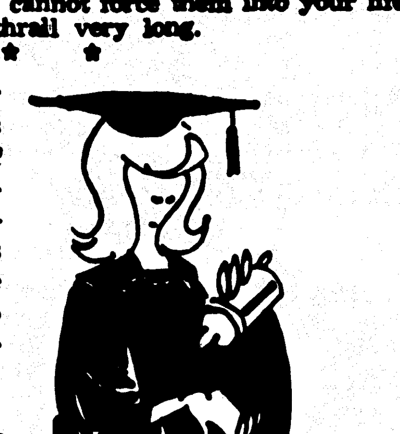
★ ★ ★

"Drums Unlimited" Beat In Chicago: One of five percussion specialty shops for beat and offbeat teens across the United States. Promoters claim "if they're hitting a drum, they're not hitting each other."

★ ★ ★

Word from the Wise: When parents and teens have leaned on each other harder than usual, here is a thought to put things into prospective. Your children are but your charges for a short time, not your possessions. You cannot force them into your life style nor keep them in your thrall very long.

★ ★ ★



Communities Now Starting Baby-Sitting Classes: Red Cross and women's auxiliaries of medical associations are sponsoring. Graduates receive certificates. Course is six weeks in length. Several cities title successful "students" GEMS (Good Emergency Mother Substitutes.)

Medical Discovery: Formerly thought only 10 per cent of cancers are preventable. Now believed 50 per cent can be cured or subdued. Eventual goal 80 per cent with the tremendous research underway by American Cancer Society.

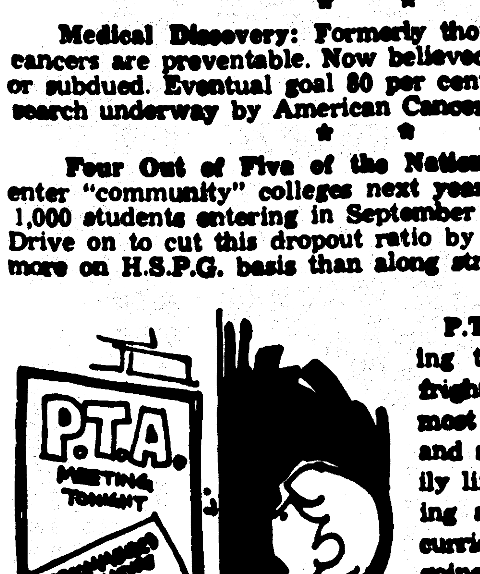
Four Out of Five of the Nation's College Freshmen will enter "community" colleges next year. Estimated half of every 1,000 students entering in September will be in school in June. Drive on to cut this dropout ratio by re-structuring curriculum more on H.S.P.G. basis than along strictly "collegiate" lines.

★ ★ ★



P.T.A.'s Starting, just starting to get the word on the frightening inadequacies of most sex ed programs in junior and senior high schools. "Family life" courses are slowly being accepted by parents. The curriculum deals with dating, going steady, homosexuality, masturbation, narcotics, alcohol, marriage readiness and sexual relationship.

Main Indian Wins N.M. Scholarship

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — A 25-year-old Penobscot Indian woman has become the first Eastern Indian accepted in a New Mexico special scholarship program in law for American Indians.

Maine's Department of Indian Affairs announced Monday that Donna Byers of Indian Island, Old Town, will attend a pre-law seminar starting June 17 at the University of New Mexico.

After the summer program, Miss Byers hopes to enroll in the University of Maine law school in Portland and specialize in Maine Indian law. She is a 1965 graduate of the University of Maine.

All Male Jury In Spock Trial

BOSTON (AP) — The federal government outlines its case today against Dr. Benjamin Spock and four others charged with conspiring to counsel young men to avoid the draft.

Government prosecutors in opening statements to a jury of 12 men and three male alternates, tell what they intend to prove against the five defendants.

The jury was impaneled Monday in U.S. District Court despite arguments by the defense that women were discriminated against on the panel.

Leonard Boudin, Spock's lawyer, questioned Court Clerk Russell Peck why there were only nine women on the list of 110 jury prospects.

Peck admitted the list made him look like a "misogynist," or woman hater, but said selection was made at random.

Judge Francis J.W. Ford denied a motion by the defense to discard the list and draw up another.

Boudin did not indicate why he wished more women on the jury.

Spock, 65, is on trial with Yale chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43; Michael Ferber, 23, a graduate student at Harvard; Mitchell Goodman, 44, of New York and Temple, Maine, an author and teacher; and Marcus Raskin, 33, co-director of the Institute for Political Studies in Washington.

Signal Dispute Idles U.P. Mine

CALUMET (AP)—Most workers Monday refused for the seventh day to descend into the Kingston mine of Calumet & Hecla Corp.

Officials of the firm said a few men went down into the copper mine but most of the 290 employes stayed at ground level.

The miners halted work May 10, protesting a company order that an emergency bell no longer be used to signal from within the mine to a hoist operator at ground level.

No negotiations on the issue were immediately scheduled.

Members of Local 4312 of the United Steelworkers of America had objected to the order because the firm made the change without first notifying the union or miners.

Some miners also said that when the emergency bell system is used, they can be sure it is operative.

Calumet & Hecla officials ordered the men to use the regular communication system for nonemergency purposes. The regular system is a two-way device which can be answered from ground level. The emergency bell cannot be answered by employes at ground level.

Abandon Ship In North Sea

LONDON (AP) — Fire broke out aboard the 5,000-ton Norwegian cruise ship Blenheim today, forcing her 98 passengers and most of her crew of 80 to abandon ship in the middle of the North Sea. One passenger was reported injured.

A skeleton crew stayed aboard to fight the fire, and tugs which arrived on the scene joined in the effort.

Two Danish fishing trawlers relieved the Blenheim's packed lifeboats of about 65 of the passengers and took them to the Danish port of Esbjerg.

The sea was calm as a fleet of rescue ships, planes and helicopters converged on the scene 170 miles west of the Danish harbor of Tyboron. The armada was hurriedly summoned from Britain, Scandinavia and the Netherlands.

College To Honor Prentiss Brown

SAULT STE. MARIE—Prentiss M. Brown of St. Ignace, the "father" of the Mackinac Bridge, will be honored by Lake Superior State College at commencement exercises on June 8.

He will be recognized with the first "Distinguished Citizen" award to be presented by the college.

"It is appropriate that we should recognize Prentiss Brown on the 10th anniversary of the bridge; and this year, when the bridge bonds will be retired out of bridge earnings for the first time," said Dr. Kenneth J. Shouldice, chancellor at LSSC.

Brown, an attorney, financier, statesman and bridge builder, was the first Democrat elected to Congress from Michigan's old 11th Congressional District which included parts of the Upper and Lower Peninsulas and went on to become U.S Senator from Michigan. He also served briefly as the director of the Office of Price Administration.

Once proposed as a candidate for vice president, a running mate of Franklin D. Roosevelt, he declined at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago, saying, "My daughter is being crowned Cherry Queen in my home district tonight and I think that is enough honor for the Brown family for one day."

Today Brown, heading for his 79th birthday next June 18, picks the "financing of the Mackinac Bridge as the greatest achievement of my career."

Belmont Park Racing Begins

NEW YORK (AP) — Calumet Farm, whose Forward Pass won the Preakness by six lengths and the Kentucky Derby on the disqualification of Dancer's Image, figured in two firsts at the opening of the new Belmont Park race track Monday.

The very first race run before the new $30.7 million stand went to Calumet's Ever On, a full brother to Forward Pass.

In the fifth race, Calumet's Hilario became the first horse to be disqualified at the new track, which had been closed since Oct. 27, 1962. Hilario finished second to Wise Road, but his number was taken down by the stewards for interference at the head of the stretch. In Reality won the first stake race. The 4-year-old Florida-bred colt, owned by Frances Genter of Minneapolis, Minn., and ridden by Jorge Velasquez, drew out in the stretch to win the $55,800 Carter Handicap by 1½ lengths over Tumiga.

In Reality paid $6.40 after running the seven furlongs in 1:21 4-5 under top weight of 124 pounds.

TIGER HEROES, Al Kaline and Eddie Mathews, sport big smiles after they both hit home runs in Detroit's 7-0 victory over the Washington Senators Sunday. Kaline's homer was the 307th of his career and put him ahead of Hank Greenberg for the all-time Tiger lead. (AP Wirephoto)

Johnson's Ninth Inning Double Defeats Houston

By The Associated Press

Alex Johnson, given another chance to prove himself, still doesn't feel comfortable at the plate. But he is making believers of National League pitchers, who also are feeling uneasy when he is hitting.

"I don't feel natural at the plate for the long ball," moaned the 25-year-old Cincinnati outfielder. "I'm just blooping them."

Despite his troubles, Johnson managed a run-scoring single and later a game-winning double in the ninth inning Monday night, giving the Reds a 3-2 uphill victory over the Houston Astros.

Johnson's three hits raised his batting average to .333 and gave him 15 runs batted in as a bona-fide regular for the first time in five major league tries.

Ed Charles, a 35-year-old veteran given another chance, clouted his second home run of the game in the ninth inning, lifting the New York Mets over Pittsburgh 2-1.

Larry Jaster continued what he does best — beat Los Angles — by hurling St. Louis past the Dodgers 2-1 with a two-hitter. In the only other NL game, Felipe Alou singled in a ninth inning run, boosting Atlanta to a 6-5 triumph over San Francisco and into sole possession of second place.

Johnson, traded to St. Louis in the Bill White deal after failing to win a starting job in two seasons at Philadelphia, flopped in two seasons with the Cardinals before the Reds got him for Johnny Edwards last winter. He quickly won the left field position.

He singled in a run in the seventh inning against the Astros, but Jim Wynn's two-run triple in the third still left Cincinnati behind 2-1 entering the ninth.

After Mack Jones walked as a pinch hitter and moved to second on a sacrifice, Pete Rose singled in the tying run against loser Don Wilson and Johnson followed with his double off the left field wall against reliever Jim Ray.

"I'm gripping the bat too hard," Johnson still insisted. "I'm not comfortable and I'm not getting good follow through."

But still, as Cincinnati Manager Dave Bristol said, "Johnson comes to the ball park, puts on his uniform and produces."

Charles, a seven-year veteran still trying to win a job after signing with the Mets as a free agent this spring, led off the ninth with his fifth homer of the season as a part-time performer. The third-baseman, second on the Mets in homers and runs batted in, homered with two out in the fourth off loser Bob Veale.

His clouts gave the victory to rookie Jerry Koosman, who pitched a five-hitter for his sixth triumph against two losses.

Jaster, who blanked the Dodgers five straight times in his rookie year in 1966, gave up a run without a hit in the first inning, and the only hits off him were singles by Paul Popovich in the fifth and Wes Parker in the ninth.

Bobby Tolan singled and scored on Orlando Cepeda's double in the first for St. Louis and Tolan won it in the eighth with a two-out single after Lou Brock doubled off loser Don Sutton.

Alou's hit came with the bases loaded and none out after the Giants had tied the score in the top of the ninth with three runs. Bob Tillman, who singled in a run in the second and scored on a squeeze bunt and set up another run in the sixth with a hit, doubled to open the ninth and his pinch runner scored the winning run.

Football Notes

NEW YORK (AP) — The pro football owner-player battle will heat up again this week when the delegates of the National Football League Players' Association meet with a committee of owners, probably Thursday.

The owners spent considerable time on the problem at their meetings in Atlanta last week and have drawn up a master plan to present to the players.

The players are asking for $500 per man for pre-season games, an annual $5 million payment to the player pension fund and a $15,000 minimum salary.

With the teams due to report in about seven or eight weeks, both sides are running out of time. A compromise may be the solution.

Earl McCullouch of Southern California is torn between a shot at an Olympic gold medal in the 110-meter hurdles or a pro football career with the Detroit Lions... Other potential Olympians who have been drafted by the pros include shot putter Randy Matson, (Atlanta), high jumper Ed Caruthers (Detroit), sprinter Tommie Smith (Los Angeles), sprinter Jim Hines (Miami) and wrestler Curley Clulp Denver.

The Los Angeles Rams picked up 913 yards when they acquired Tommy Watkins from Detroit along with Milt Plum, Pat Studstill and a No. 1 draft choice for Bill Munson.

Watkins, coming back strong after missing the entire 1966 season because of knee surgery, gained 361 yards as a running back, 411 as a punt return man, 57 on kickoff runbacks and 84 on passes for the Lions.

Studstill, handicapped by a pulled hamstring, caught only 10 passes and was only a part time punter.

Baltimore and Washington will play a rookie game at the Colts' camp in Westminster, Md. the morning of July 14 but that won't be the first football game. The All American game at Atlanta, a clash between two college all-star teams, is set for June 28... Raymond Berry will coach the receivers for the Dallas Cowboys now that he has retired as an active player.

Schaffer Forms Baseball Teams

Players in the Bark River area are to contact Bernard Kleiman, 466-7482; Lloyd Olson, 466-2197 and in the Hyde area call Reinholt Bittner, 466-5596 or Ernest Klein, 466-2122.

There will be a meeting of all managers Monday, May 27 at 8 p.m. at Potvin's Bar in Schaffer to draw up the teams.

Softball Notes

Hannan Pitches Bisons Victory

By The Associated Press

At the rate he's setting down International League batters, Jim Hannan may yet pitch his way back to the Washington Senators.

The hard-throwing right-hander pitched his fifth complete game and recorded his fifth victory against only two defeats Monday night as the Buffalo Bisons beat the Toledo Mud Hens 8-3 for their sixth victory in their last nine starts. Buffalo moved into a virtual tie for third place, just 1½ games out of the lead.

The Columbus Jets pulled to within half a game of front-running Rochester by whipping Louisville 3-2 for the Colonels' ninth loss in their last 13 starts. The Jacksonville Mets knocked off the Richmond Braves 3-1, while Rochester's scheduled game at Syracuse was rained out.

In 53 innings, Hannan has given up 53 hits, walked 13 and struck out 34. He now sports a 3.23 earned run average. Ironically, he was the losing pitcher in the only game the Bisons have lost in their hot streak.

Hannan got all the runs he needed Monday night in the first inning when Bob Chance belted his ninth homer behind two walks and Gary Holman hit his third after a Toledo error.

Toledo starter Mike Marshall struck out 15 batters for a club record but never recovered from Buffalo's five-run first inning. Three of the eight runs off him were unearned. A wild pitch by Dave Morehead put George Spriggs in position to score on a single by Elvio Jimenez in the sixth inning for the winning Columbus run at Louisville. John Gelnar picked up his fourth triumph in five decisions with relief help from Dock Ellis.

An infield hit, an error, and infield out, a double by Amos Otis and a single by Bob Pfeil gave Jacksonville two runs in the fifth at Richmond. Relief pitchers Bob Hendley and Don Shaw blanked the Braves over the last 3 2-3 innings. Dave Nicholson homered for Richmond's run.

DOUBLE DUTY — Neither Red Sox first baseman George Scott nor his shadow were successful in fielding this high throw from third baseman Dalton Jones.

Twins' Errors Help Tigers To Victory

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Denny McLain has been emulating Cuban curveballer Camilo Pascual, and the sturdy Detroit right-hander says it's paying off for him.

McLain threw a three-run home run pitch to Minnesota's Dick Reese Monday night, but bided his time and let the Twins give him his sixth victory against one defeat, 4-3 in 10 innings.

Three of the Tigers' runs were unearned off loser Jim Merritt, and Detroit scored its winning run in the 10th without a base hit as the Twins committed their third and fourth errors.

"The biggest thing," said McLain, who leads the American League with six complete games, "is that I've been watching Camilo Pascual, and I think has the best curve I've ever seen.

"I was watching him Sunday, and he reaches way back to throw his curve. I've been short-arming my curve, bringing my arm up close to my shoulder instead of reaching way back. You might give a runner a little more chance that way, but that hitter still has to get a hit to score the run."

Pinpoint control also has returned for McLain. "Two years ago I had trouble with wildness at the end of the year. And I had the same trouble early last year. I couldn't get my curve over.

"The difference now is I can get my curve over in any situation. I'm throwing it on 2-2, 3-2 and 3-1."

McClain didn't walk a man for the third time this season.

Reese hit his blast after Tony Oliva and Rich Rollins singled.

After that, the Twins didn't get a man past second against McLain, now 6-1.

Twins' Manager Cal Ermer had two late-inning defensive replacements blow up in his face. But Ermer steadfastly defended his moves of inserting Jackie Hernandez at shortstop and Ron Clark at third base.

Hernandez' throwing error with two out in the 10th let Kaline go to second, then Clark let Bill Freehan's grounder get away from him to allow Kaline to score the winning run.

"This is the first time this year they've beaten us," Ermer said of his defensive moves. "I know good and well the men I put in there are better defensively than the men I had in there for their hitting the first part of the game.

"I'd make that move again. I think you've got to make it in trying to protect a lead."

Western To Hire Negro On Staff

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Western Michigan University intends to hire a Negro for its athletic staff, according to a statement by Dr. Joseph T. Hoy, athletic director.

Negro athletes at the university who petitioned for more equitable treatment" also have been told "efforts are being made to improve communication between black athletes and athletic department personnel."

The assurance came Monday in a joint statement by Hoy and a sophomore trackman from New York, Tom Randolph, 26, a spokesman for Negro athletes at the university.

The statement followed a meeting of officials and the athletes who last week asked changes in the school's coaching policies, scholarships, counseling and personnel utilization.

A letter signed "Black Athletes" charged: "The University is incapable of equitable relationships with black athletes," but said it (the letter) was "not to be considered as any form of threat." At that time, Randolph said no boycott was planned by Negro athletes.

The statement also expressed Hoy's "full confidence in his coaching staff as he has had in the past and also said "The university has been interviewing Negro candidates for the coaching staff and will have Negro representation on the athletic staff."

Adminstration representatives at the meeting in addition to Hoy were Pat Clysdale, administrative assistant to Hoy, and Hal Bateman, sports information director.

Marines Beat Esky Golfers

MARINETTE — Coach Jack Magnuson was looking for a better performance from his Escanaba golf team today in a dual meet at Iron Mountain in the Eskymos' final look at the rugged Pine Mountain course before the Upper Peninsula tournament there Friday.

The Escanaba golfers tackled Little River Country Club Monday and came out on the short end of the varsity match with Marinette.

The Marines "A" team defeated the Eskymos 312 to 333 with the best four of five scores used for the result, according to Wisconsin high school rules. Escanaba's "B" team scrambled to a draw with Marinette at 358.

Medalist for the Marines was Gary Poquette, who fired a neat 74 over the par 36-35—71 layout. Jim Moore carded a pair of 40s for an 80 to lead Escanaba. The scores:

Escanaba "A" Team: Jim Moore, 40-40—80; Greg Olson, 45-38—83; Bill Hebert, 43-41—84; Jerry Brazeau, 42-44—86; Bob Feller, 45-43—88. Marinette "A" Team: Gary Poquette, 38-36—74; Mike Stang, 42-36—78; Terry Poquette, 40-38—78; Fred Stubenvall, 45-37—82; Dave Melegari, 41-41—82.

Fregosi Mauls Boston; Angels Win In Eleven

By The Associated Press

It isn't as if the Boston Red Sox didn't know any better; they can tell when a guy is on a hitting streak as well as anybody. It was just that they couldn't push the winning run across before Jim Fregosi got up to bat again.

Fregosi was murdering the Red Sox all night Monday — a homer in the first inning, a triple in the third, a double in the eighth — and when Rico Petrocelli's ninth-inning homer tied the score for Boston, the Sox desperately had to find a way to stop Fregosi.

In the bottom of the ninth, they came up with an acceptable method, giving him an intentional walk with two out and a man on second.

Neither team could score into the 11th and with two out and a runner at second again, the Sox took an awful chance. They pitched to Fregosi.

Moments later, the ball was bouncing off the left field wall, Fregosi had his cycle, the Angels had their 5-4 victory and the Red Sox had their lesson for the evening.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit beat Minnesota 4-3 in 10 innings, Baltimore edged Chicago 2-1 and New York beat Washington 6-1.

Fregosi scored three runs and drove in two as the Angels took a 3-0 lead that was shortened by solo homers from George Scott and Elston Howard. Petrocelli's shot came with two out in the ninth.

Jim Hardin stopped the White Sox on six hits and Boog Powell hit a two-run homer for the Orioles, who ended a three-game losing streak. Hardin pitched his way out of several jams.

Jim Bouton won his first start for the Yankees since 1966, scattering eight hits and fanning Washington slugger Frank Howard three times. Joe Pepitone hit his first home run of the season for the Yanks.

The Health Careers Club financed their trip by sponsoring two bake sales, one dance, and cannister solicitation in various businesses.

While touring the University Hospital they were instructed in the three functions of the hospital: teaching, research and medicine.

Members making the trip included Beverly Messer, Linda Edwards, Barbara LaMuth, Johnana Chvala, Marlene Pawley, Mary Laquia, Dena Patterson, Mary Bowman, Ann Clish, Linda Tennyson, Nancy Babbit, Julia Roemer, and Carol Peterson.

Miss Jean Dixon co-chaperoned the group with Mrs. Rice and also provided transportation.

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

Sunglass Snydrome: American Optometric Association worriesabout rapidly increasing misuse of sunglasses. Not advisable to wear "for effect." Shades should not be worn at night and/or indoors. Continued "inside" usage impedes the eyes' ability to tolerate normal light. Major function of properly designed glasses is to reduce the intensity of ultraviolet and infrared rays. Both are invisible. The current boon in sunglass sales is more "fashion" than "function." The American Optometric Association has a lens and an ax to grind. Write to it at 7000 Chippewa St., St. Louis, Mo. 63119. The eyes you save may be your own! Its booklet about sunglasses is super.

★ ★ ★

RADIO RAH RAH: Over 47 million sets in United States (ten million in cars — 90 per cent of all new cars are radio equipped.) Twenty million sets are transistor-powered. Fascinating omission of vital detail: Radio Advertising Bureau neglects to break out ownership pattern of teens. The under 18 group are defined as a 25 million "youth market;" and their listening, not purchasing, patterns are briefly described. Small wonder teens feel that the "Seal of Disapproval" should be given to tunnelized research people who refuse even to relate the teen role to the total role of the dollars toward the nation's cash registers.

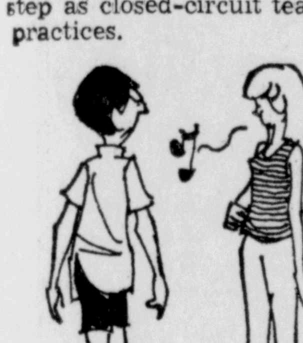
★ ★ ★

Bulging Bulgarian Teen-Agers: Communist leaders feel teens are turned out and off. Plan campaign to close the yap gap between youth and Communist party leadership. Young writers being added to "the party line" staff. Emphasis being placed on a new central agency to relate to younger generation and to reduce the "arrogance, sectarianism, neglect and unnecessary interference" of the old guard party people. First secretary has ordered more marches, banners, badges, songs and uniforms. A fast visit to Sunset Strip, Haight-Ashbury, Olde Town and Greenwich Village could be useful to concerned rednicks from the bulky Balkans.

★ ★ ★

Denver Goes Mod: Modular learning units are 30 minutes long. Denver's high schools have 14 a day. Gives curriculum greater flexibility, more responsibility to the student. Logical step as closed-circuit teaching closes in on closed-mind teaching practices.

★ ★ ★



Bare Look For Boys: Signs of summer. Teen boys aren't abdicating the right to show skin. More boys than ever wearing shorts, sneakers and sportshirts at the first signs of summer warmth. Not just for sport or country either. Big city teen boys appearing in growing numbers with their mini-pants. Look for this trend to really pop this summer!

★ ★ ★

Bonded Blonde: Times are a-changing. A certain cosmetic house is now pushing the redhead almost as vigorously as the blonde head. Says everyone should try at least once. See an effort to tune in on teen adventurousness and also to turn the tide against the teen blonde surfer look. It probably won't work. Whatever the new hair color is, it won't be foisted upon teens by mad, mad Madison Avenue! They will create it themselves.

★ ★ ★

"Drums Unlimited" Beat In Chicago: One of five percussion specialty shops for beat and offbeat teens across the United States. Promoters claim "if they're hitting a drum, they're not hitting each other."

★ ★ ★

Word from the Wise: When parents and teens have leaned on each other harder than usual, here is a thought to put things into prospective. Your children are but your charges for a short time, not your possessions. You cannot force them into your life style nor keep them in your thrall very long.

Communities Now Starting Baby-Sitting Classes: Red Cross and women's auxiliaries of medical associations are sponsoring. Graduates receive certificates. Course is six weeks in length. Several cities title successful "students" GEMS (Good Emergency Mother Substitutes.)

Four Out of Five of the Nation's College Freshmen will enter "community" colleges next year. Estimated half of every 1,000 students entering in September will be in school in June. Drive on to cut this dropout ratio by re-structuring curriculum more on H.S.P.G. basis than along strictly "collegiate" lines.

P.T.A.'s Starting, just starting to get the word on the frightening inadequacies of most sex ed programs in junior and senior high schools. "Family life" courses are slowly being accepted by parents. The curriculum deals with dating, going steady, homosexuality, masturbation, narcotics, alcohol, marriage readiness and sexual relationship.

Main Indian Wins N.M. Scholarship

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — A 25-year-old Penobscot Indian woman has become the first Eastern Indian accepted in a New Mexico special scholarship program in law for American Indians.

Maine's Department of Indian Affairs announced Monday that Donna Byers of Indian Island, Old Town, will attend a pre-law seminar starting June 17 at the University of New Mexico.

After the summer program, Miss Byers hopes to enroll in the University of Maine law school in Portland and specialize in Maine Indian law. She is a 1965 graduate of the University of Maine.
